16 CONVICTED OF CONTEMPT

Action Strengthens Power of Congress To Check on Communist Groups.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, June 28—A contempt conviction against 16 leaders of the joint Anti-Fascist Refugee committee backed up today the power of congress to investigate what it calls Communists and Communist-front organizations.

A federal court jury took barely more than an hour to return a guilty verdict late yesterday against novelist Howard Fast and 15 other members of the refugee aid group's executive board.

The defendants were charged with contempt of congress for failing to produce their records as demanded by the house committee on un-American activities.

In their defense, they had attacked the legality of the house group—the same unsuccessful plea made by Gerhart Eisler, German-born alleged "supreme authority" of American Communists, and Eugene Dennis, general secretary of the Communist party, in their similar contempt trials.

Promises Appeal

"I'll carry this fight to the supreme court if necessary," Defense Attorney John Rogge commented to newsmen after the verdict.

The FBI and the house committee on un-American activities had labeled the anti-Fascist committee as a Communist-front organization. The group is headed by Dr. Edward R. Barsky, New York surgeon who operated a hospital for the international brigade in the Spanish Civil war. It maintains it is a relief organization to aid Spanish Republican refugees.

Rogge contended in the trial that the executive board members lacked custody over the record requested by the house committee. The attorney said they were kept by the group's executive secretary, Helen R. Bryan, herself under a separate indictment for contempt.

Those Convicted

Convicted with Barsky and Fast, who is a well-known writer of historical novels, were Leverett S. Gleason, publisher of nationally-circulated comic books, and Herman Shumlin, producer of New York stage hits.

Others were Dr. Lyman R Bradley, New York university professor; Dr. Jacob Auslander physician; Harry M. Justiz, attorney; Mrs. Louise Kamsly, housewife; Mrs. Ruther Leider, attorney; James Lustig, associate with the CIO Electrical Workers; Manueal Magana, businessman; Dr. Louis S. Millen, physician; Mrs. Charlotte Stern, housewife; Dr. Jesse Tolmach, physician; Mrs. Bobbie Weinstein, housewife, all of New York City, and Mrs. Marjorie Chodorov, housewife of Stamford, Conn.

All are free on bond pending motions and appeal, as are Dennis and Eisler.

Mass Flight of Navy Planes Postponed

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., June 28—A low ceiling today forced the navy to postpone until tomorrow plans for a mass flight of 120 planes from Columbus to Detroit via Toledo.

The flight will start from here at 2:15 p. m. tomorrow, weather permitting.

The ceiling over part of the route today was only 400 feet, and at least 2,000 feet are required for flight over cities.

The flight will be in commemoration of the first anniversary of the Navy and Marine corps reserve. (The planes were to have passed over Marion today).

Hospital Benefit Race Ticket Sale Enters Final Days

With only two days remaining before the horses will be running in the Little Grand Circuit races at the Marion County Fairgrounds, members of the Woman's Board of the Marion City Hospital are on the last lap of their pre-season sale of books of tickets. The races open Tuesday night and continue through July 19. Proceeds of the pre-season ticket sale are used by the board to carry on its work of providing equipment and comforts at the City hospital.

Tickets in books of 18 admissions for $12, are being sold by the members. They also may be obtained at the National City Bank, Hotel Harding, Hotel Marion, Markert & Lewis', and assisting the members in the sale throughout the county are the Buick garage at Mt. Gilead, Eugene English at LaRue, Songer's restaurant, Bucyrus, the Riley Hardware & Harness store at Richwood and the Maculluff Electrical Supply Co. at Marysville.

The tickets are good for any day and may be used individually or in parties. The $12 includes state and federal tax the board announces.

RAILROADS REPORT ON CROSSING PROJECT

C. & O. and Pennsylvania Tell Committee of Progress.

Letters from chief engineers of the C. & O. and Pennsylvania railroads concerning grade crossing eliminations here, were read at a meeting of the grade crossing committee of the Marion Chamber of Commerce yesterday at a luncheon meeting in Hotel Marion.

The communications stated plans and specifications and a general outline for grade crossing eliminations in the north and south sections of the city are in process of drafting, and are expected to be ready soon. At the time of presentation, they will provide blueprints and recommendations, it was said.

Regarding the plans, Mayor Harry L. Dowler said that as soon as they are received from the railroads, the city will determine what is to be its next step in the program.

He said that it is his feeling that nothing should be done immediately, "because the railroads are cooperating very well with C. of C. committee, and have presented a plan which seems very plausible." This plan, he explained, is one which would preclude the spending of the huge sum it would take to "eliminate everything," first estimate of which was $10,000,000.

At the last meeting with representatives the two railroads, a plan under preparation was presented, he said, for making "joint elimination," the same right of way to be used for both railroads through the city. It was his recommendation, in view of this, for the crossing committee to await further information from the railroads concerning the matter.

The committee adjourned to wait for further word from the railroads involved. Stephen W. Kuhner acted as chairman in absence of Floyd Browne.

Elimination of east-west crossings also is under study by the Erie and N.Y.C. and the committee.

CIO TO FIGHT LAW IN COURT

High Command Passes Word to Unions Legality To Be Contested.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, June 28—The CIO high command passed the word to member unions today that the battle of the Taft-Hartley labor act will be fought in the courts and in the 1948 national elections.

Rejecting all suggestions of a general protest strike, the 51-member CIO executive board decided to (1) attack the new law's constitutionality and (2) call on the AFL and railroad unions for a united attempt to beat the congressmen who voted for it.

Meanwhile CIO unions will be advised to make their own decisions on whether to involve themselves with the new national labor relations board in any way.

As a starter in the court fight, President Philip Murray said, the CIO will take aim on the Taft-Hartley bill's ban against union political contibutions or editorial expression for or against congressional candidates in newspapers supported by union funds.

Won't Comply

"We will not comply with the unconstitutional limitations on political activity which are written into the Taft-Hartley bill," Murray said in a formal statement late yesterday after the executive board ended its one-day session.

Murray proposed a meeting of himself and leaders of the other big unions to work out joint strategy for the court and election fight.

He sent invitations to William Green, president of the AFL; Alvanley Johnston, head of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers; A. F. Whitney, chief of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, and Arthur Lyon, secretary of the Railroad Labor Executives association, which represents the other railroad brotherhoods.

The AFL claims 7,500,000 members, the CIO more than 6,000,000 and the railroad brotherhoods about 1,500,000.

"We propose," Murray said, "to exercise our political rights for the purpose of mobilizing the American people for the repudiation not only of the Taft-Hartley bill but of the entire reactionary program of which it is a part."

The executive board will distribute to CIO unions copies of a legal analysis of the bill by General Counsel Lee Pressman. Each

ROBBERS TAKE $175,000 FROM FIVE COUPLES

Rich Loot Seized in Daring Holdup in Fashionable Section of Allentown, Pa.

By The Associated Press

ALLENTOWN, Pa., June 28—In a daring holdup in a home in the fashionable west end of Allentown, four men—two armed—held up five couples and fled with $175,000 in loot.

Louis Wiener, a manufacturer, told police he was sitting on the front porch of his home chatting with his wife and two other couples, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Neff and Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Salitsky when the men mounted the porch and ordered the couples into the house.

Mrs. Neff told police the gunmen, speaking in low voices, kept repeating assurances that no one would be hurt if everyone did as ordered."

"We've heard you have a safe," she quoted one of the gunmen as saying to Wiener. "Show it to us."

The safe was concealed in the bedroom. Wiener pointed it out and was ordered to open it. He did. Then all but Wiener was bound and gagged.

Servants Bound

Meanwhile Mr. and Mrs. Frank Pfingstel, servants employed by the Wieners, returned and one of the holdup men compelled Wiener to open the door and admit them.

He did so and the Pfingstels also were bound and gagged.

The procedure was repeated when Claire Wiener, 18-year-old daughter of the Wieners, returned at 12:30 with Irwin Salitsky, 20, son of the Bernard Salitskys. The gunmen's final act was to tie up Wiener.

Police said the holdup men took $150,000 in non-negotiable securities. Wiener reported they relieved him of about $850 in cash, Neff of $365 and Salitsky of $80. Police said the stickup men also took a small amount of money and a wrist watch from Miss Wiener and about $23,000 in jewels.

Phone Wires Cut

After checking the bonds of the couples, the four cut telephone wires in the house, removed the keys from Pringstel's car and fled in a 1947 black Plymouth sedan which bore New York state license plates.

Shortly after the four fled, Pfingstel slipped his bonds and summoned police.

None of the victims was able to furnish complete descriptions of the stickup men, police said.

Tools Worth $118 Stolen at Garage

Tools value at $118.50 were stolen from the Lincoln-Mercury garage in a burgary sometime between 10 Friday night and 7 a. m. today, police reported. The breakin was discovered when the garage was opened this morning.

Entrance into the building was gained through a rear basement window after breaking the pane and unlocking the latch.

Three valuable items in the shop's tools were reported missing. They included an electric drill valued at $65, another electric drill valued at $32.50 and a set of socket wrenches valued at $21.

The police reported they had a suspect under investigation today in connection with the larceny.

LICENSE SUSPENDED

The state liquor board today ordered a 30-day suspension of the beer, wine and liquor license of Helen Coke, operating the China Pig, near Galion, an Associated Press dispatch from Columbus reported. The suspension was based on a charge of Sunday sales, sales to persons not seated and sales for off-premises consumption the dispatch stated.

Marine Colonel Seeks Secrets Of Cancer from Indian Tribe

By PAUL F. SELLS

United Press Science Writer

NEW YORK, June 28—Arthur J. Burks, 49-year-old colonel in the U. S. Marine Corps, left today on a mission in memory of his dead wife—a mission to Brazil to determine, if possible, why a certain tribe of Indians never have cancer. Mrs. Burks died of cancer.

These Indians are the Mundurucu tribe. They live in the wild jungle area, some 1,500 miles inland from Rio De Janeiro.

Burks learned of this tribe of people who never have cancer after his wife died, and he visited the Indians last winter to make preparations for a more exhaustive mission.

Ex-Leader of Black Legion Denies Jones Was Member

By The Associated Press

LIMA, O., June 28—Rep. Robert F. Jones of Lima had the support today of the former local commander of the Black Legion in his Washington denial yesterday that he ever had been a member of the organization.

Virgil H. (Bert) Effinger, identifying himself as the former Lima Black Legion commander, said that Jones never had been a member. He also added that he since had quit the organization.

Jones denied membership after Columnist Drew Pearson testified before a senate commerce sub-committee which is considering the Ohio congressman's nomination to the federal communications commission. Pearson said that he had proof Jones was a Black Legion member and that his father had been affiliated with the Ku Klux Klan.

Francis W. Durbin, Democratic state central committeeman, Mrs. Lena Sifer, state Democratic central committeewoman, and Lynn Timmerman, who once opposed Jones in a Republican primary, said they were called Thursday night by Pearson before he testified yesterday. Durbin said that the columnist told him he had called at the suggestion of State Democratic Boss Al Horstman of Dayton.

L. E. Ludwig and Clarence C. Miller, defeated Democratic foes of Jones, declined to comment whether they, too, had been telephoned by Pearson.

Before the sub-committee closed yesterday until Thursday, Pearson promised to deliver an affidavit to support his assertions.

A decision on the nomination was postponed until next Thursday.

10,000 MEN TO GET FURLOUGHS

Pittsburgh District Steel Mills To Lay Off Workers as Coal Grows Scarce.

By The Associated Press

PITTSBURGH, June 28—The Carnegie-Illinois Steel Corp. said today that 10,000 workers in its district mills would be furloughed by Monday in the largest mass layoff to date in a coal-dependent industry because of a complete shutdown in the nation's mines for a miners' vacation.

This drastic slash in the Pittsburgh-Youngstown, O., district came as nearly a half million United States coal miners went on a 10-day paid vacation.

Carnegie-Illinois, top steelmaker in the structure of the U. S. Steel Corp., nation's largest producer gives employment in the district to about 55,000, including maintenance and office workers. The layoffs affect only production workers, of which there are about 40,000 in district mills.

The U. S. Steel subsidiary announced yesterday an immediate cutback in district operations of 50 per cent from a peak theoretical capacity of 104 per cent to about 45 per cent.

A Carnegie-Illinois spokesman said today that the deep operations slash to conserve meager supplies of coal would result in the banking of 10 additional blast furnaces, raising the total of those banked to the equivalent of 14½ of the 26 steel-making furnaces the firm operates in the Youngstown-Pittsburgh area. Additionally, the firm will reduce its open hearth operations from 130 to 50, a cutback of 80 units.

The spokesman was unable to say how long the furloughs of workers would last, nor if there would be additional layoffs.

Map New Effort On Coal Situation

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, June 28—Labor department officials said today Secretary Schwellenbach will try next week to bring John L. Lewis and the soft coal operators together and head off a full-scale national strike July 8.

Secretary of the Interior Krug estimated that after Sunday there will be only 48,000,000 tons of coal in storage above ground, or a 32-day supply.

As the last miners filed out of the pits early today for a 10-day vacation, Krug prepared to give the mines back to the owners when federal authority to run them expires at midnight Monday.

The vacation was provided for in the government contract signed by Lewis and Krug to end the strike 13 months ago. That contract runs out along with federal operation of the properties.

The miners' vacation—shared also by the 75,000 Pennsylvania anthracite workers—may develop into an indefinite holiday if no agreement is reached in the next 10 days.

Labor officials expressed the belief there is still a chance that a contract can be obtained before the deadline, at least by operators from the northern and western coal fields. They represent 75 per cent of the industry and are bargaining together.

Drew Pearson Lays Charges Against Jones

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, June 28—Rep. Robert F. Jones (R-Ohio), nominated by President Truman to a place on the federal communications commission, denied yesterday statements by Drew Pearson that he was a member of the Black Legion, and that he once had been introduced by his father as "the youngest member of the Ku Klux Klan."

Jones likewise denied another statement by the newspaper columnist and radio commentator that he once sent greetings to Gerald L. K. Smith for publication in the "Cross and Flag," Smith's magazine.

Pearson and Jones appeared in that order before a senate commerce subcommittee which is considering Jones' nomination. Jones was nominated June 18, the same day the White House withdrew the reappointment of Roy C. Wakefield to the commission.

Pearson Testifies

Pearson testified 'Congressman Jones has been identified personally with one of the most anti-Semitic, Fascist inclined figures in this country, namely, Gerald L. K. Smith," and that the October,

CIO Will Picket Wedding of Taft's Son in Michigan

By International News Service

ST. JOSEPH, Mich., June 28—CIO members in St. Joseph were summoned today to form picket lines at the wedding of Lloyd Taft, son of U. S. Senator Robert A. Taft, in protest against the Taft-Hartley labor bill.

Gordan Colwell, chairman of the executive board of local 931, CIO-United Electrical Workers union, announced that signs are being prepared and the unionists "will picket."

Colwell assured that the union has "nothing against the bride or the groom."

"In fact," he added, "We'll even give them a check if they appear at the church."

The wedding was scheduled for 4 p. m. at the Congregational church.

Both men and women were called to the picket duty, but were told that the action is "purely voluntary."

PHONE, POWER SERVICES HIT

Falling Trees, Limbs Crash on Autos Near Waldo and Ashley.

Telephone and electrical service in southern Marion county and northern Delaware county were interrupted yesterday afternoon and evening by a violent rain and wind storm which swept the area.

In Ashley hail stones the size of small marbles fell yesterday afternoon for five minutes, ripping leaves from trees.

Ashley and surrounding territory were without electricity from 4:30 p. m., some sections staying blacked out most of the night. Damage to lines was caused by falling trees and limbs. Ashley village power was restored about an hour after the storm.

Two automobiles were damaged by falling trees. At Ashley during the height of the storm an automobile parked in the driveway at the S. C. Powers residence southeast of the village was smashed by a limb.

Motorists' Narrow Escape

Floyd Forry, driver, and Lawrence Howald, a passenger, escaped serious injury when the hood and cowling of their automobile was struck by a large tree about 5:20 yesterday afternoon, the state highway patrol reported. They were traveling south on Route 23 north of Waldo when the accident occurred.

Mr. Howald received treatment for cuts and bruises at the office of a Waldo physician. Mr. Forry's injuries did not require treatment. Patrolmen who reported the accident said if the automobile had traveled a few feet further the accident probably would have proved fatal.

At the time of the accident there apparently was no wind. It is thought the tree had been weakened by a storm earlier. Traffic was held up for two hours while the tree was being removed.

Phone Cable Broken

The same tree severed the main telephone cable connecting Marion, Waldo, Delaware and Columbus. Repair crews from the Ohio Bell Telephone Co. in Columbus and the crew from the Marion station of the Ohio Associated Telephone Co. worked throughout the night to restore service. It was expected the cable would be in working order by noon today.

Traffic on High street in Ashley was blocked for several hours when a large tree in front of the residence of Mrs. Marian Sharp, Delaware city health nurse, fell across the thoroughfare.

Two henhouses on the farm of Frank Jackson Jr. southeast of Ashley were overturned. One hen sitting on a nest was killed but eggs in the nest were undisturbed. On the same farm the lives of young turkeys were endangered by failure of electric power, but none of the birds were lost.

Father, Son Injured

Eddie Keltner, 12, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Keltner of Ashley, suffered injuries as an indirect result of the storm. He had gone to a second floor room and was coming down stairs when the lights went out. The boy became frightened and jumped, suffering a gash on the forehead. New Labor Law Strikes Blow At Communist Union Leaders

(This is the fifth of six stories explaining what's in the new labor law.)

* * *

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, June 28—The new labor law is designed to smoke out Communists in the top of the labor movement.

The law does not ban Communists from unions. But in effect, it bars them from holding union office. This way:

If a union officer fails to swear in writing that he is not a communist, his union loses its rights under the law.

Those rights are numerous and one of them is the backbone of present union strength. Under the law a boss has to bargain with a union of his employes.

So losing that right, a union would suffer. Would it be needed? That remains to be seen. Would such a union — dealing with an employer no longer compelled to bargain—strike to make him bargain?

President Truman, when he vetoed the labor bill, predicted that would happen. He said this section of the new law could increase the disruptive effect of Communists in unions.

Another Political Section

There is another political section of the bill—one which curbs [illegible] spending and action by unions and corporations.

The anti-Communist section is [illegible] trying to free the union from Communist officers. The house had proposed that bargaining privileges be denied any union having as officer who could reasonably be regarded as a Communist.

(Before a boss has to bargain with a union that union must be approved by the government's national labor relations board.)

But this house idea was regarded in the senate as too indefinite, too great a burden of investigation and proof on the NLRB. Now the NLRB simply checks on whether all the union officers have sworn statements on file.

If a union does not come before the NLRB for any of its rights under the law—such as bargaining—the absence of a sworn statement means nothing.

If a union official falsifies his statement he does not hurt his union, or himself, until he is found out.

The way in which he may be found out is through criminal procedure—a federal prosecution for falsely swearing to the government. The offense has a maximum penalty of $10,000, or ten years imprisonment, or both.

But until the case has made its way through the courts, his union retains its bargaining rights.

Communist Leader

The only major union headed by an avowed Communist is the CIO International Fur and Leather Workers Union. Ben Gold, New York, is its president and no officership would prevent the union from seeking the help of NLRB in winning a certification or obtaining a union shop.

But a labor department spokesman says the furriers union rarely has used the NLRB and unless forced to change this policy need not run afoul the law.

As for the clampdown on political "expenditures" by unions—as far as it affects political opinion in union newspapers—the CIO Amalgamated Clothing Workers has already moved to challenge it in court.

The clothing workers made public Wednesday night an editorial in its newspaper condemning the Taft-Hartley bill and accusing senators who voted to override the President's veto of "a hatchet job on American workingmen and women."

An AFL spokesman also says [illegible]

TRAGIC HOLIDAY — Making her first airplane trip as a graduation gift from her parents, Margaret Kueppers, 17, St. Paul, Minn., was among the 39 victims of the Central Airline DC-4 crash in the Blue Ridge mountains near Leesburg, Va.

We won't let it stop us. We will be happy to test it in court.

In AFL's opinion, the law as written prevents 650 federation newspapers from giving their views on candidates for federal office.

A CIO spokesman, equally bitter, says it sterilizes the labor press.

The law forbids all "expenditures" by unions, banks and corporations in connection with presidential, vice-presidential and congressional primaries, caucuses, conventions and general elections.

Formerly, only campaign contributions were prohibited, and these were banned only for general elections.

Meaning of Amendment

The new amendment means that a union may not pay for political advertisements in general newspapers, buy radio time for electioneering purposes, or use union funds to print newspapers which carry political opinion.

Strictly interpreted, it might prevent AFL's long-standing practice of furnishing its unions with the voting records of congressional candidates.

Senate supporters of the measure, including Senator Taft (R-Ohio), say it will not prohibit political work financed by money from individual unionists, but only from union treasuries.

Taft's interpretation would appear to put an okay on political comment in union papers which are financed solely by advertising and subscriptions.

It also would legalize the far-flung campaigning of the CIO political action committee. In its pre-1948 drive for funds, CIO-PAC says it will not accept money from union treasuries and will rely entirely on individual donations.

But both AFL and CIO leaders condemn what they call the "loose" phrasing of the act. They say they would rather have a court's interpretation than Taft's.

Herbert Names Dale Dunifon To Head State Liquor Dept.

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., June 28—Dale Dunifon, long active in Ohio Republican political affairs and adviser to several former governors, nominally was the state's new liquor director today—lifted by yesterday's appointment from his post as administrator of the bureau of unemployment compensation, effective July 1.

The move—Dunifon's second since Gov. Thomas J. Herbert's regime took office last January—immediately gave rise to speculation about a successor in the BUC post and talk that Herbert might make several other appointments before the general assembly returns Monday for formal adjournment.

Dunifon goes from a $7,500 post in the BUC to the $9,600 salary created for the liquor department director during the recent legislative sessions. His predecessor, Stanley B. Cofair, of Cleveland, who resigned June 16, received $6,500 a year under the old salary scheduled for cabinet officers.

A resident of Van Wert, Dunifon first came to Columbus in 1923 as an assistant under Charles C. Crabbe, then attorney general. He returned in 1929 as executive secretary to former Gov. Myers Y. Cooper and later was first assistant under both Sen. John W. Bricker and Governor Herbert when they were state attorney generals.

Herbert still must name a state health director to succeed Dr. Roger E. Heering, a liquor board chairman to succeed the late William E. Hess of Cincinnati, and a racing commission member to succeed John Lokar, associate and appointee of former Gov. Frank J. Lausche. He would send Dunifon's name before the reconvening senate for confirmation on Monday.

Herbert said that while he wanted Dunifon to assume his new post on Tuesday he would not leave the BUC until a successor had been selected. Such a successor would serve the three years and eight months balance of Dunifon's unexpired term. As liquor director, Dunifon now serves at the pleasure of the governor.

First American Troops Landed In St. Nazaire 30 Years Ago

By The Associated Press

ST. NAZAIRE, June 28—Just 30 years ago today, the first American troops to land in France arrived here and unlike their predecessors who splashed ashore through the fire two and a half decades later, the doughboys at St. Nazaire were all smiling and happy about leaving the boats.

There wasn't a pill box or an 88-millimeter cannon in sight. The mayor, the Red Cross and the commanding general had arrived a month earlier and were on hand for the reception ceremony.

The doughboys of 1917 disembarked on their roll-type leggings, crammed razors, cigaret cases, pictures of mom and the kids and other soldier essentials in their knapsacks and walked ashore to earn the first 14,500 campaign ribbons issued in the ETO.

They were pretty happy about leaving the transports in the 14 ship convoy because there still wasn't a white cross marked Flanders Field, they hadn't met the Mademoiselle from Armentieres and the little Marine hadn't gone over the top.

In the last 30 years thousands of ships and millions of men have crossed the Atlantic from the States. Germany has been defeated twice and 200,000 American graves in Europe today mark the Yank's share in those victories.

There have been bigger and better equipped convoys than that first one commanded by Admiral Albert Gleaves, but certainly none was more impressive.

To parade the American uniform for the first time at war in Europe, the high command picked the best.

Combat elements included the old 16th infantry regiment of the First division, two battalions of the 28th infantry regiment and one battalion of the Fifth Marines.

The ranking officer aboard was Maj. Gen. William L. Sibert, commander of the First division. Others were Brig. Gen. R. L. Bullard and Brig. Gen. Omar Bundy.

"Looking back to the first expedition of June 1917," wrote Admiral Gleaves, "it seems indeed that the hand of providence must have been held over those arks." The trip through submarine infested waters was made without incident.

STATE FAIR PRIZE LIST IS INCREASED

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., June 28—The state board of agriculture yesterday announced a 35 per cent increase in all premiums to be paid to winners of Ohio State fair contests and a similar increase for each department of the fair for operating costs.

The action came as a result of the legislature's appropriation of $250,000 for the state fair as compared with $186,000 allocated to the 1946 fair, which was the first since before the war.

Fair Manager Edwin J. Bath said a total of $136,568 would be paid out in fair premiums this year with the largest sums being $25,000 for the horse show, and $200,000 for the harness race program.

The department of agriculture asked the legislature for $280,000 but was cut to $250,000.

Frank Farnsworth, state agriculture director, predicted that every department of the fair would be completely filled. The board took its action at its May meeting, but held it in abeyance until the legislature had made the appropriation.

The fair will be held Aug. 23 to 29.

Family at Bucyrus Flees Fire at Home

BUCYRUS, June 28—Members of the Jerome Fox family, were forced to flee in their nightclothing through an upstairs window early Friday when smoke from a downstairs blaze filled second floor rooms.

Mr. Fox dashed through the smoke filled room to bring a ladder for the escape of his wife and children.

The fire, of undetermined origin, damaged a sofa and a clothes closet and contents in the living room in the extent of approximately $700. The blaze was extinguished with water.

Health Program Given At Meeting of Grange

A "Health Program" sponsored by the home economics committee of United Grange was given at a meeting Tuesday night with Miss Esther Mautz, county health nurse, giving a talk and showing motion pictures on nutrition.

Prizes in the molasses cookie contest went to Mrs. Mae Smith, Mrs. Mildred Ruth and Mrs. Nellie Clary. In a recent contest held in the Grange it was decided the losing team would arrange a banquet for the winning team at the July 8 meeting. Members voted to have an exhibit at the Marion county fair. During the social hour a surprise dessert was served of strawberries and ice cream furnished by Mr. and Mrs. Ferdinand Lawrence

Radar To Check On Ohio Weather for Army Planes

By The Associated Press

JAMESTOWN, O., June 28—The army air forces have installed 17 tons of ever-rotating radar antennae atop of a 25-foot high tower near this Greene county town as part of the AAF's air traffic control and weather research projects.

The antennae, part of the long-range "V-beam radar traffic control station recently constructed for the army's all-weather flying center at Wilmington, are so delicately-balanced that one man could move them despite their weight.

As they rotate, AAF spokesmen said, slant and vertical antennae search a 250-mile radius to determine the height of passing aircraft in flight and their position in the air traffic pattern.

In addition, they pick up signs of approaching thunder-storms, so that its control personnel can alert crews of the Northrop P-61 "Black Widow" planes standing by at Wilmington ready to fly into the storms to wrest from them more secrets on the whys and wherefores of weather.

Information gathered by the antennae appears on 13 scopes in the control building, one of four quonset huts situated at the base of the control tower. From the study of these radar impressions, air traffic control officers direct planes to fly assigned lanes to prevent collision.

Bucyrus Fireworks Display Is Planned

BUCYRUS, June 28—The customary celebration and fireworks display which has highlighted July Fourth at Aumiller park for several years, will again be held this year no the park grounds, American Legion officials here announced today.

Col. Crawford post has sponsored the celebration for several years as in previous will raise the necessary $500 for the fireworks by solicitations from industries, business ad private citizens.

Favorable weather prevailing, the celebration is expected to draw between 10,000 and 13,000 spectators.

Hollywood Movie Producer Expert on Phones

By HAL BOYLE
Associated Press Writer

HOLLYWOOD, June 28—I don't know anyone who has more telephones growing to his ear or gets a bigger kick out of being a movie producer than Lester Cowan.

He plays the role to the hilt—like John Barrymore doing "Hamlet" and "King Lear" on the same set. He plays it for fun as well as money.

Hal Boyle

He is a chunky, friendly, enthusiastic man with a head full of ideas for making pictures outside the conventional patterns. His tremendous energy, shrewd box office timing—he made Ernie Pyle's "G.I. Joe" —and business judgment have made him a top film figure at an age when he is too old to be a "boy wonder" and too young to be middle-aged.

To me Lester is "Mr. Hollywood," and I suppose he will cut me off his cocktail list for calling him that. Because he doesn't like to think he is "Hollywoodish." Nobody out here does for some reason.

But his life reads like an Horatio Alger tale polished up by Ben Hecht.

Lester as a boy sold newspapers in Dayton, O. Then he went into the glove business—boxing. But he soon decided there was no future in getting roundheeled from catching flats in the face.

He came out here, got a start in the film industry and went up like a champagne cork. He now is a leading independent producer, associated with Mary Pickford.

Lives His Pictures

Most producers merely supervise pictures. Lester lives his. He throws himself head foremost into every detail from casting the film to selling it. He would turn the camera crank, too, but I don't believe he holds a union card.

After watching him pinwheel around a studio, I remarked wonderingly:

"He does everything but write the script."

"He rewrites that!" moaned a man by me who turned out to be a script writer.

Lester wears out assistants, writers, directors, actors and stenographers like a beaver full of benzedrine cutting through a straw forest. But what won my admiration was his two-fisted skill with a telephone. He can dial two phones while carrying on three conversations, and he always gets the right number. He has called up everybody but Alexander Graham Bell, and would get him except there's no connection. He doesn't produce movies. He phones them.

Only twice have I seen Lester out of reach of a telephone. Once he went into a room marked "men" and the other time he disappeared behind a door labeled "gentlemen."

Wife Is Composer

He and his pretty wife, Ann Ronell, the well known composer, are my favorite Hollywood couple. They are fine hosts. They invited us out one evening recently to what Lester called their new "small country place" in San Fernando valley.

When we got there it turned out to be a 40-acre ranch rimmed by a private bridle path. There were three beautifully furnished houses on the estate, a swimming pool, paddock, stables and hot and cold showers for Lester's four blooded horses.

"How do the horses know if the shower is the right temperature?" I asked the trainer.

"They stick in their hoof first to see," gravely suggested the small son of one of the house guests. I was surprised Cowan didn't hire the boy on the spot.

Later we stood by the pool as it reflected the dusk - purpling hills. Moved by the twilight beauty, Cowan said very seriously:

"It's all quite simple out here. We want to keep it that way. We didn't want to bring Hollywood out here."

Well, that's Lester — my "Mr. Hollywood." After all, some producers would have built two darn swimming pools, and ruined the whole rustic atmosphere of that simple four-horse dell.

A BEAUTIFULLY appointed ceremony took place yesterday afternoon in the First Presbyterian church when Miss Jeanne Louise Olewiler, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. Howard L. Olewiler of 282 East Church street, became the bride of Ralph D. McCambridge of Lancaster, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence L. McCambridge of New Lexington, O.

As the ceremony was held at the church of which the bride's father is pastor, the pews were filled with the many parishioners and friends of the families. Immediately after the recessional the parents and bridal party received the congregation in the church parlors.

Rev. Olewiler escorted his daughter to the altar, where he officiated for the ceremony at 4:30 o'clock. The altar, illuminated with myriads of candles, was banked with palms and arbor vitae to form a background for the many all-white bouquets of peonies. Mrs. Harry C. Williams, organist, played the wedding music. Her program included "Prayer" from Humperdinck's "Hansel and Gretel," "Intermezzo," Provost, "Romance" Sibelius, "In the Silence of Night," Rachmaninoff, "Because," D'Hardelot, "Through the Years," Youmans, Theme from "Concerto No. 2," Rachmaninoff, "In My Garden," Firestone, "Intermezzo" from "Cavalier Rusticana," Mascagni, and the wedding marches. During the ceremony the prelude to Act I, "Lohengrin," by Wagner, was played.

Preceding the bride down the aisle were her bridesmaids Mrs David Pollak and Miss Carolyn King, the junior bridesmaid who was her sister, Miss Susie Olewiler and the matron of honor, Mrs. Richard Woods Olewiler of Shaker Heights, the bride's sister-in-law.

Miss Olewiler's gown was of shadow moire. The fitted basque had a sweetheart neckline, long, fitted sleeves and a small peplum tunic. Her veil of imported illusion fell from an antique imported rose pointe lace cap and extended the full length of her long train and she carried a white Bible marked with satin streamers to which were caught white shattered carnations. Her jewelry was a strand of pearls and she wore the traditional Alpha Phi bracelet which is worn by all girls of the sorority for their weddings. Her handkerchief was one that was carried by her mother at her wedding.

The gowns worn by the bridesmaids and matron of honor were exact duplicates of the bride's in ice blue shadow moire, the matron of honor's being in a deeper shade than those of the bridesmaids. They wore Gibson bows of matching moire in their hair and their old-fashioned bouquets held ice pink carnations. The junior bridesmaid wore a gown of ice pink taffeta made with a fitted basque and full skirt. Accenting the bodice was a moire yoke, made with a round neck and edged with pink lace in an off-the-shoulder and low back effect. Her flowers were baby blue delphinium in an old-fashioned bouquet.

Rodney Hearing of New Lexington served as best man for the bridegroom and seating the guests were Richard Woods Olewiler of Shaker Heights, brother of the bride, Harry Jarous of Columbus, Neal Watson and Joseph Hague of Lancaster.

A periwinkle blue crepe dinner gown with moire covered pink and blue flower hat and long pink gloves was worn by the bride's mother and the bridegroom's mother chose a gown of dusty pink grenadine with a small black figure matching her black accessories. Both wore corsages of pink shattered carnations.

Peggy Hale, wearing a sheer ice marquisette gown in a soft pink shade, and an arm band of shattered pink carnations, lighted the candles for the ceremony.

For the reception the parlors were decorated with bouquets of madonna lilies, pink roses, delphinium and peonies, and forming a background for the receiving line were palms and baskets of peonies. The table, laid with a white linen cloth, was centered with roses and delphinium and surrounding each of the two punch bowls were gardenias. Assisting were Mrs. Karl W. Sorrell, Mrs. O. M. Young, Mrs. Frank M. Foster, Mrs. J. B. Bray, Mrs. Marr McNeal, Miss Patricia Lawler, Miss Marjorie Williams, Miss Helen Louise Schaffner of Marion and Mrs. Edward Converse of Delaware.

Low bowls filled with pink roses and gardenias paneling the table and surrounding the wedding cake and lighted tapers were the decorations for the dinner at which Rev. and Mrs. Olewiler were hosts following the reception. It was at the church and was attended by the bridal party and out-of-town guests.

Mr. McCambridge and his bride will motor through Canada, the New England states and along the Atlantic coast on their honeymoon. For traveling the bride wore a green and beige jersey dress, a large jade straw hat and pinned to her green coat was a gardenia corsage. Upon their return they will make their home in Lancaster.

The bride was graduated in 1945 from Bowling Green State university where she affiliated with Alpha Phi sorority, Phi Sigma Mu honorary music fraternity and Kappa Delta Pi, honorary educational society. She was supervisor of music in the Junior High school at Lancaster. Mr. McCambridge was graduated from Ohio university in 1943 and served three years overseas with the Army Air Corps in World War II. He is a member of the Lancaster school faculty and will be coach and physical education instructor in the junior high school there next year.

Out-of-town guests here for the wedding included Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Strickhouser of York, Pa., grandparents of the bride, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. McCambridge, Miss Joan Johnson of New Lexington, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Mock of Logan, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Olewiler of Shaker Heights, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Jacobs of Columbus, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Hague of Lancaster, Mrs. Mary Lantz, house mother of Alpha Phi sorority at Bowling Green state university, M. C. McEwan, dean of music at the university and Mrs. McEwan and Miss Virginia Firstenbaugh of Columbus.

The rehearsal dinner was given by the bride's parents Thursday evening at their home. Madonna lilies and gardenias carried out a decorative theme for the table. Guests included Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Strickhouser of York, Pa., the bride's grandparents. The bride's gifts to her attendants were compacts and Mr. McCambridge gave his best man and ushers sterling silver monogrammed key chains.

MRS. RALPH D. McCAMBRIDGE

Mrs. Melvin Bailey Jr., who before her marriage June 14 was Miss Ruth Elder Corwin, was complimented with a miscellaneous shower Monday evening when her sister, Mrs. Marion E. Kelley entertained at her home at 410 North Greenwood street. The honored guest was presented her gifts by Little Larry Bailey, who pulled a wagon decorated in her colors of aqua blue and yellow. Contest awards were won by Mrs. Roger Campbell, Mrs. Betty Orcutt and Miss Betty Moore. The hostess was assisted in serving by Mrs. Charles Corwin and Miss Mary Louise Corwin.

Miss Virginia Albert of 125 Kenmore avenue, who left Thursday for California, where she plans to work, was complimented with a party Monday evening by women employes of the Marion County bank. She is a former employe of the bank. The farewell event was at the home of Mrs. Charles D. Fetter of Morral. A buffet lunch was served and guests were seated at tables centered with roses. Ice cream molds in the form of trunks, and a decorated cake were the dessert. Miss Albert was presented a gift. There with the honor guest and the hostess were Mrs. John Brady, Mrs. DeWitt Cook, and Misses Edith Miller, Norma Lusch, Donna Sailer, Helen Yeager and Ruth Yeager.

Mrs. Walter Carder of Cherry street was hostess to the Three G's club Tuesday night. Plans were made for a picnic to be held at the park in Mansfield July 30, with Mrs. Grace Lehner as hostess. Contest prizes were won by Mrs. Katherine Haycook and Mrs. Helen Clark. The guessing box award was won by Mrs. Ruth Sautter. Guests were Mrs. C. W. DeLong and Miss Suzanne Sautter.

Members of the Clionian club closed their season Tuesday evening with a picnic followed by installation of officers at the home of Mrs. Gladys Arter on Powhattan street. Mrs. C. R. Pennisten, returning president, presided, and installed the following officers: Mrs. H. F. Hay, president; Mrs. Jules Kepling, vice president; Mrs. Marion Cheney recording secretary; Mrs. C. H. Bachelder, corresponding secretary, Mrs. Harry L. Smith, treasurer. Programs for the new year were distributed. The first meeting of the new season will be in September at the Federation Home. Guests were Mrs. C. J. Smith and Mrs. James Casey of Marion, and Mrs. George Pearce of Lakeland, Fla.

Mrs. Guy Shank entertained the Hegh-Ho club Thursday evening at Ringer's inn. The time was spent socially and euchre was played with high honors going to Mrs. H. R. Brown and second and floating to Mrs. William Tharp. The guessing box was won by Mrs. Ernest Phillians. Miss Sandra Tharp was a guest. The next meeting will be July 17 at Ringer's inn with Mrs. Charles Trattler as hostess.

Contest honors were won by Mrs. Pauline Barnhouse, Mrs. Vena Miller and Mrs. Beth Monk when the Mystery club met Wednesday evening with Mrs. Olive Van Voorhis at 499 Davids street. Mrs. Ruth Sautter served as assistant hostess. Mrs. Eva Parsan was honored with a handkerchief shower. Plans were made for a family picnic to be held July 30.

Plans were made for a potluck supper July 17 at McKinley park when Miss Ruth Zulauf entertained the Happy Hours club Wednesday evening at Rogers inn. Mrs. Dale Kimbel, president, was in charge of the meeting. During the evening, hearts were played with high honors going to Mrs. Gale McDougle and Mrs. Kimbel. Miss Dorotha Lust was consoled. A guessing box went to Mrs. Pearl Green. Refreshments were served at a table centered with a bouquet of red, white and blue flowers. The next meeting will be in September and election of officers will be held.

In Loving Memory
*Of our daughter Elizabeth, who left us six years ago tomorrow.
Calm and peaceful she is sleeping,
Sweetest rest that follows pain,
We who loved her, sadly miss her,
But trust in God to meet again.
Oh, how we'd love to clasp hold of her hand,
To hear her sweet voice, see her smile once again,
But God called her home to the heaven so fair,
So we won't wish her back, but we'll meet her up there.

MARITAL CONFUSION PROBLEM FOR POLICE

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., June 28—Police today were trying to unravel the marital story of Mrs. Cynthia Lloyd Chandler Hopper Hartman, 32-year-old former Cincinnati woman, charged with contributing to the delinquency of her four children, all from separate husbands.

Policewoman Edna Thomas said the blonde Mrs. Hartman was arrested yesterday with LeRoy Hartman, 26, of Columbus, her wedding mate June 24, 1946, in a Columbus workhouse ceremony. Hartman at the time was serving a workhouse term for non-support, stemming from his own previous marriage.

The policewoman said Mrs. Hartman claimed under questioning:

That she first was married to a Price Chandler of Covington, Ky.; then lived in common law marriage with a man named Wilson (first name unavailable) by whom she had a son, Edward, now 14.

Later she married a George Clark and bore a daughter, Joyce, now 8. She obtained a divorce from Chandler while still married to Clark but later married Floyd Hopper of Covington, whom she divorced while he was in the Army and after they had a son, Floyd, who is three.

After her marriage to Hartman here last year she bore a son, John, now six-months-old.

After the Hartmans were arrested on delinquency charges, the children were taken to the detention home.

Former Resident Of Union Co. Dies

Special to The Star

RICHWOOD, June 28—Wilfred R. Bainbridge, 82, formerly of Essex and Magnetic Springs, died at 12:30 a. m. today in the home of his daughter in Columbus. He had been ill two years and had lived during that time at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Carl L. French, who is his only close survivor.

Born Oct. 15, 1864, in Franklin county, he was a son of William and Anna Harper Bainbridge, the father a native of Virginia and the mother of Franklin county. Nov. 30, 1887, he married Angie Parrish at Essex. She died in 1939. Mr. Bainbridge was a retired farmer, a member of the Magnetic Springs Methodist church, and of the K. of P. lodge there. He was last of a family of five children.

Funeral services will be conducted Tuesday at 3 p. m. in the Essex Methodist church by Rev. Clyde Parrish. Burial will be in Price cemetery near Essex. Friends may call at the Hastings funeral home here until 1 p. m. Tuesday when the body will be removed to the church.

HEAT IN HOSPITAL SHOWERS REDUCED

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, June 28—Engineers will go to Cleveland state hospital Monday to reduce bath water below the heat danger point, state welfare director Charles L. Sherwood announced today.

Here to investigate the scalding deaths of two of the institution's patients, Sherwood added:

"Those things happen. Murders occur every so often in these places—even in private places, and surely in mental and penal institutions. You are dealing with antisocial personalities to start with."

On the hospital's wage scale, Sherwood declared:

"Better wages are not in themselves the answer to the problem. Wages at Cleveland state and Hawthorndon state hospital are $10 a month more than at other state hospitals.

The patients who died were Moses Maxwell, 60, and Mark Lombardo, 68.

Samuel Whitman, executive director of the Cleveland Mental Hygiene association, disagreed with Sherwood. He said:

"True—you are bound to have accidents, but you don't need to have the unnecessary ones.

"We disagree with the idea that wages here are adequate."

Dr. Attilio LaGuardia, assistant commissioner of mental diseases, said after the investigation the attendent named as having left the shower room unlocked will be suspended.

Garfield Letters Given To Library

By The Associated Press

PAINESVILLE, O., June 28—Written between 1873 and 1880, a series of letters by James A. Garfield, twentieth president of the United States, have come to light here and will be placed in the Ohioana library.

All were written to J. F. Scofield, then postmaster of Painesville and editor of the Painesville Telegraph. One commented on the Hayes campaign:

"In view of the fact that Gov. Rutherford B. Hayes is nominated, I feel it to be my duty to take to the field and do all I can for his election. And if our friends desire me to be a candidate, I have concluded to allow my name to run."

Garfield, who lived in neighboring Mentor said in the same letter, "I am glad to have the liberals come back to the party and help in the election of Gov. Hayes, but I do not think they have any right to assume the leadership in our party and dictate to those who have never bloted."

The letters have been turned over to Vaughn Wyman, Lake county chairman of the Ohioana library.

John Lewis Can Do It

THE country will know what's ahead for industry within the next two weeks—war or peace. The coal industry will tell the story.

The question is whether Americans are smart enough to avoid what happened to France and is happening to Britain, or whether they too must yield to the promoters of industrial warfare. The United States is in desperate need of a demonstration of industrial statesmanship.

John Lewis could put on the demonstration, with the cooperation of the coal industry's managers and owners—especially John Lewis however, because he has been the bellwether of the mass unionism that developed during the middle 30's. It is ironic coincidence that he is the first top-flight labor leader to test the Taft-Hartley act, representing the people's attempt to regulate some of the disturbing practices of mass unionism.

A decision by Mr. Lewis not to force a showdown that might wreck the national economy would be a potent demonstration of good will. He can set an example of industrial peace. He can allay fears of government collapse unless union leadership can be prevented from challenging public authority. He can refute his testimony before a congressional committee last March, when he said there is no way to prevent crippling strikes such as those he has led in the coal industry, "until we change our form of government." The people don't want to change the form of government.

Mr. Lewis has a great decision to make. The coal industry has a great decision to make. Circumstances have put it and its labor dictator in the center of the national stage. The United States can be as great as it dreams of being, or it can be strife-ridden and industrially impotent. It all simmers down to the sense of responsibility in the hearts of a few men—in the heart of one man in particular, John Lewis. He must make the most momentous decision made by any labor leader in this century.

Comeuppance

CONVICTION of Eugene Dennis, general secretary of the Communist party, put quietus on another of the arrogant crew of Communist leaders believe they're above the government. The sentencing of Gerhart Eisler and Carl A. Marzani is a further step in the campaign to make American Communists realize the laws they live by are written in Washington, not Moscow.

There remains the matter of seeing that the sentences imposed in these cases are enforced without unreasonable delay. Too often in the past cases of a similar nature have been allowed to drag out interminably on appeals and technicalities.

Toward Unification

ALTHOUGH it is unlikely to vote this year on universal military training, congress is preparing to act on the so-called armed services unification bill. As now constituted, the bill authorizes a national security council, a central intelligence agency, a resources mobilization board and a national security secretary. The latter would be of cabinet rank and under him would be the Army, Navy and Air Force secretaries.

The bill would not unify so much as draw the control strings together at the top. Chairman Gurney of the senate armed forces committee believes the measure will affect a saving of $50,000,000 annually. This is optimistic, for as it now stands the bill is far short of the measure originally conceived.

There is no indication the bill makes a frontal attack on the problems cited by General Leroy Lutes, Army supply chief, who has pointed out that billions of dollars were expended unnecessarily during the war because of duplication of facilities and effort and differences in contract specifications.

When the time comes to effect the savings Senator Gurney forecasts is when the screaming will start. Which shall be eliminated—this naval base or that Army post alongside it? Which product shall be specified in contracts—the one the Navy has used for years or the one the Army prefers? Who shall have jurisdiction in this case—General Doe or Admiral Roe. The clamor accompanying the surgical operations recently performed on certain bureaus by the house budget committee will be as nothing to the uproar when the Army brass and the Navy brass begin to sense inroads on their prerogatives.

The Oregon Mystery

OBSERVERS in the Oregon country report they have seen what appear to be saucer-like objects whizzing through the heavens at an estimated 1,200 miles an hour. No one can offer information as to what they are and the Army reports it is conducting no weapon experiments in the area.

It is obvious that what is happening is that, in a city where water pressure's exceptionally high, one of those new-fangled automatic dishwashers has gone out of control and is flicking china off into space. Any listener to radio mystery programs could have deduced as much, had he given it a moment's thought.

The Fourth of July

By FRANK TRIPP

WE ARE a strange people and can, within less than half a generation, throw ourselves into complete reverse with respect to so many of our thoughts and ways—even forget what was once an enthusiasm. Take the Fourth of July for instance.

One need not be very old to remember when the Glorious Fourth vied with Christmas for first affection among the holidays, particularly with youngsters.

I was talking with a child about the Fourth of July the other day and was startled to learn that the day which to me and my children marked the high spot of all summer has sunk to the level of just another day when the banks and the freight houses don't open.

The child hadn't reached a point in schooling when events which brought us Independence Day had yet sunk in. He was about nine. The mention of the Fourth of July didn't strike even the smallest spark of juvenile thrill. I was momentarily amazed, confounded and a bit angry with modern apathy, as I am prone to be anyway. My wrath was quickly rationalized. It's the ban on fireworks. To a kid that was like taking Santa Claus out of Christmas.

By the standards under which most of us were reared the mention of the Fourth of July to a boy of nine should start a conversation of some length and enthusiastic import. At this season of the year, not long ago, it would have started a spirited discussion on the relative merits of a sockful of cannon crackers or a bundle of Roman candles as the most appropriate way in which to celebrate the day we thumbed our nose at Britain's George III.

If you could get the youngster off the topic of noise for a moment he would tell you crudely what the day meant and rouse a happy memory in your own cynical breast. Might even send you down town to buy a dozen of the biggest dynamite crackers you could find, an armful of sky rockets or a couple big colored paper balloons, which usually burned while you tried to inflate them or caught and hung in your tree till fall.

If you had no kids of your own, you sheepishly told your wife that you wanted to do something for your neighbors' children. You did like fun. You wanted to shoot something off yourself—you wanted to be a kid again.

Based on the accidents and maimings which resulted, anyone who would repeal the Safe and Sane Fourth would be a foolish and unpopular sap. Yet have you ever pondered what a lot of fun, spirit and seed of patriotic fervor have been taken away from the generations to come?

Remember how you fondled and displayed with pride the stock of noise makers you hoarded for weeks before the Fourth? Remember how you roused before the crack of dawn, when finally came the glorious day, and fired your biggest block-buster under the window of the neighborhood grouch? Remember sitting on the horse-block all day blowing at a piece of punk and tossing fire crackers into the air. Remember how the sizzlers burned the front steps?

Remember what a flop your measly night display turned out to be, how the sky rockets swished across the street and hit the curb, how that great long Roman candle only had three balls in it, how the 50 cent flowerpot squirted up a sickly gush of white sparks and just when you expected it to burst into a blare of varicolored glory the darn thing sputtered into everlasting gloom without even singeing its bright red jacket? Remember how the pin wheels wouldn't spin, just stood still and burned up—and remember how you vowed never again another cent for anything but the good old reliable, treacherous, dynamite cracker? Noise, hellish noise and danger would henceforth express your patriotism.

It was a whale of a lot of sport just the same and it kindled something in a boy that he has been deprived of forever. The trouble with reformers and the fun they destroy is their failure to give us something in its place.

Just a Minute

—By JACK TARVER—

Be It Ever So Humble

Election officials, after some time spent in contemplation of the legal status of a Jersey gent who resides in a tree, have ruled that his official address is neither his tree-house nor the place of business to which he daily hies himself to earn his victuals.

Nope, say they, his official residence is the Y M C A, to which he repairs regularly of a Saturday night for his baths.

Home, it thus develops, is not—as the poet would have it—where the heart is. Home is where the soap is.

This is bound to create confusion until the average citizen gets used to it. It'll seem funny, I mean, to pick up the paper some morning and read in the vital statistics that a marriage license has been issued to Jane Doe, of the lavendar tile bathroom, second floor rear, 23 Skidoo street and Richard Roe, third shower stall to the right, Eta Beta Pi Fraternity House.

Incidentally, I can't help wonder how, under this new interpretation of legal residence, election officials will determine whether a newcomer has actually lived in the precinct long enough to be qualified to vote. There are any number of unscrupulous characters who would think nothing of stooping to forge a six-months' ring around a newly-acquired bathtub.

Eddie Guest is going to have to revise his most famous poem because, under this latest interpretation.

It takes a lot of washing in a house to make it home.

Europe Needs Self-Help Plan

By WALTER LIPPMANN

As the European governments work on the idea broached by Secretary Marshall in his Harvard speech, and as the three committees set up here by the president begin their inquiries, it may be useful to define—if we can—the practical criterion by which the whole effort is likely in the end to be judged.

In Europe the universal questions are: What does the United States government expect us to do to justify our right to assistance, and will congress and the American people provide that assistance when the president and the secretary of state recommend it?

Here, the question is how much can the United States afford to provide, and also will congress and the people approve the official estimates of what could and should be provided?

The best answer to these questions is to say that what we expect of the European governments is an agreed program of rehabilitation which is, as respects the American grants-in-aid, self-liquidating over a definite and reasonably short term of years.

Not Enough

Thus it will not be enough for them to add up their prospective dollar deficits for the coming year, and present that to us as a statement of their needs. For the administration and congress are bound to reply that covering European deficit for 1948 is not good enough if it means that the same deficit will have to be covered again in 1949, and in 1950, and so on endlessly. The hallmark of a satisfactory plan is one which shows how by judicious use of American grants-in-aid in 1948, the deficit will be smaller in 1949, still smaller in 1950, and overcome entirely at some date thereafter.

The European program must, in other words, be one in which the American subsidy is applied to the improvement of European production and trade in such a way as to do away with the need for American subsidies. Such a program will not be a dole but an investment of working capital that makes Europe self-supporting and solvent.

If such a program can be formulated and agreed to, the other questions can be answered with confidence. There is no real doubt whatsoever that the United States can afford to underwrite the diminishing deficits of such a liquidating program. The total cost, the total drain upon our resources each year, would not be so much as the cost and drain of the last war each month. But what, on the other hand, the United States cannot afford is to become engaged in paying out even relatively small sums endlessly and without hope of finishing with it, to help our friends and allies live at a subsistence level.

Not Charity Alone

We can afford all that it will take to make them self-supporting if they have united to help themselves. But spiritually and politically we cannot afford to dole out charity to each of them separately. The atmosphere of the world will be poisoned if great and proud peoples are made to feel that they are to subsist on American charity.

If the kind of program which meets these general criteria is worked out, and if it has been approved after rigorous examination by American technicians, industrialists, and financial experts, there is no need to be afraid of the final decision of congress. The congress will have to be shown that the program is genuine, that the estimates are conservative, that the calculations are reliable.

But if the plan is sound enough to work it will be convincing enough to be approved by that majority of the people and of their representatives in both parties who want—more than they want any other thing from public life—a peace which proves that this war was not fought in vain and that it does not have to be fought all over again.

(Mr. Lippmann begins his vacation today for an indefinite period. His articles will be resumed when he returns.)

Lincoln Letters

By International News Service

ST. LOUIS—Six letters written by Abraham Lincoln have been added to the priceless collections of the Missouri Historical Society. They were given to the society by Edgar R. Rombauer Jr., of Seattle, Wash., and Mrs. Marion Rombauer Becker of Cincinnati, great-grandchildren of Gustave P. Koerner. Lincoln wrote the letters to Gustave Koerner. The letters relate of Lincoln's close friendship with residents in the St. Louis area before and during the Civil War.

DOES HE MEAN IT THIS TIME?

From News of Other Years

TEN YEARS AGO

It was Monday, June 28, 1937. Adolpf Hitler applauded while Nazi Germany, through her highest apostles of economics, made known to the International Chamber of Commerce her demand for a share in the world's raw materials and its trade.

The Cayouette Products Co., beginning operations in the new plant between Neal and Boone avenues, entertained the board of directors of the Chamber of Commerce at breakfast to give the members an opportunity to inspect the plant.

The Ohio Youths Temperance Council convention got under way with a banquet at Epworth Methodist church.

Thirty-five Boy Scouts from Marion, Morrow, Wyandot and Crawford counties boarded a train at Bucyrus, enroute to Washington, D. C. to attend the national jamboree.

Miss Laura John Clark entertained with a bridge party at her home on Clover avenue in honor of the birthday anniversary of her mother, Mrs. Edward Kennedy Clark.

Approximately 20 Evangelical ministers of the Northern Ohio group of the Southern district met at Oakland Evangelical church for an all-day business and devotional conference. Rev. LeRoy Deininger of Mansfield, presided and one of the principal speakers was Rev. R. A. Sain of Columbus, district superintendent.

TWENTY YEARS AGO

It was Tuesday, June 28, 1927. A huge tri-motor Fokker army plane manned by Lt. Lester Maitland and Albert Hegenberger was the first to take off in the race of military and civilian pilots to be the first to span the Pacific from Oakland, Calif. to Hawaii.

Unmasked and brandishing guns, five bandits held up employes of the Commercial Savings bank at Galion, and escaped with $65,000 in currency and bonds. E. H. Beall, cashier of the bank, and C. W. Tracht, his assistant, three bank employes and two customers were ordered by the bandits to lie on the floor while they scooped up the money. As soon as word of the robbery reached Marion, Chief J. W. Thompson and Sheriff James A. Deal organized searching parties to cover this section.

Assistant Attorney General Grant E. Mouser Jr., former Marion city solicitor, made plans in Columbus to ask the state utilities commission to fix dates for resuming the hearing on the protest of 38 Ohio municipalities against the rate schedule filed by the Logan Gas Co.

An East Fairground street man was arrested as police opened a drive on fireworks vendors in an effort to keep the city's July the Fourth celebration safe and sane.

A Russian Looks at America

By RAYMOND MOLEY

ONE of the most important but unpublicized figures in the Soviet government is Eugene Varga. This economist, a native of Hungary, went to Russia with Lenin and Trotsky in 1917 aboard the famous "sealed" train provided by Germany. Since the revolution, he has been a sort of brain truster for the Russian rulers. He enjoys special privileges and directs much of the economic research of the Soviet.

Whatever Varga says deserves close attention. It is orthodox Communist doctrine and often anticipates the diplomatic positions of the government. As long ago as 1943 he made a statement on German reparations which still corresponds with Soviet policy. He first suggested $10,000,000,000 and reparations in manpower as Russia's share. Molotov has tirelessly repeated the same figure.

All this underlines the importance of an article by Varga in the current issue of "Foreign Affairs." Varga's subject is "Anglo-America Rivalry and Partnership." It is frankly labeled "A Marxist View," and shows clearly how completely Varga keeps informed on American and British economic affairs. His article is full of references to the very latest American economic reports. It also reveals a fairly good grasp of American politics.

Points to America's Rise

The theme of the article is the tremendous ascendency which the United States has gained over England in the past half-century. Now Varga says the greatly increased capacity of American industry requires the utmost in exports. Since Germany, Japan and Italy are out of the running and Europe cannot buy except on credit the full force of our competition will be directed against the British Empire. And thus "the ultimate aim of American policy is to break up the British Empire."

While this suggests that the U S by deliberate intent is going to break up the British Empire, Varga probably did not mean that. He mean that, due to our great economic superiority, we shall inevitably break up the empire. The Russian word Varga may have used means 'end' as well as 'aim' and the translator used the latter when he should have used the former.

Varga then says that the American necessity to export in order to prevent unemployment and stagnation compels the U S to pursue a policy of imperialism. "Today," he says, "the U S is the land where militarism is most in vogue. Big business is bent on using the country's military power for economic subjugation of the world."

Sees Fascist Threat

Varga pays high tribute to Roosevelt as a statesman. But since Roosevelt's death, he says, "the forces of social reaction have been gaining the upper hand in the U S." This "reaction" he continues, is "harboring the danger of Fascism."

Despite the growing difference between the domestic policies of Truman's America and Attlee's England the foreign policies of the two countries are united. Truman says Varga, has broken with the Roosevelt tradition. Bevin is continuing that of Churchill. Bevin, according to this Soviet view, is able to get away with this only because the "social democracy" of Britain is deeply opposed to communism.

The agreement of Molotov to confer in Paris with Bevin and Bidault becomes more understandable in the light of the Varga article. He is undoubtedly talking over our heads at the British Labor government. He is warning them against Uncle Sam. He would like to bring Britain closer to Russia. No doubt Molotov also hopes to do that at Paris.

Veterans Advance

By International News Service

PITTSBURGH—Pittsburgh public schools took the lead among the nation's schools completing veteran's secondary education with the recent award of the one thousandth diploma. Edward Potts, a former submarine radar operator, became the thousandth veteran to complete his secondary education in the public school program. He was one of 81 graduates in his class at the Westinghouse high school unit.

Water Stops "Knocking"

By International News Service

CHICAGO—New automobiles soon may be equipped with a device that eliminates engine knock by injecting a thin stream of water into the gasoline mixture when the engine is accelerated. Eward F. Obert, associate professor of mechanical engineering at Northwestern university, revealed that studies and tests he has directed over the last six years show that such water injections into the engine cylinders eliminate "objectionable noise and knocking."

Don't Get a Horse

By TRUMAN TWILL

The rider who finished first in a 153-mile horseback race from Billings to Miles City, Mont., was too exhausted when the race was over to speak a word. A veterinarian who checked the horses ridden in the race (winning time 19 hours and 13 minutes) said the nags were in good shape, however.

This is what we've been saying for years, that the conveyances were getting ahead of the passengers. What the United States needs isn't an airplane that can go 600 miles an hour, but human beings that can ride a sidewalk scooter to the corner for a loaf of bread.

We have automobiles that can go from here to there like the wind and never miss a beat, but Nature hasn't developed a human being that can do likewise without landing in the crazy house or the hopeless ward.

One of the finest contraptions ever thought up for getting over the ground was the bicycle, but it lacked something—riders who could make it go without panting themselves into a sinking spell.

Ships are fool-proof and even comfortable when everything is going all right, but designers haven't figured out how to keep a human being from getting seasick after a few minutes of up-and-down-end-for-end-back-and-forth-and-here-to-there.

A pair of roller skates will go on forever and can be guaranteed to wear out half a dozen users. Ice skates can be handed down from generation to generation, while the skaters end up in hospitals.

There wasn't a thing wrong with the free balloon as a means of covering the ground, except an oversight in Nature's planning that failed to put bounce in human beings.

The horse was eminently satisfactory as a conveyance, except for one thing—what he did to his rider.

The elephant and camel were tops and couldn't have been displaced, except for the bad effect on their riders, who sometimes were marked for life by their first trip.

It's not railroad trains, buses, airplanes that need changing but people—people who can't take it, people who get fagged out, people who get jittery, wilted and exhausted.

What we need to do is call a halt while people catch up to conveyances. It may take a while. They've just discovered in Montana that even the horse is still ahead of his riders, to say nothing of the automobile and the airplane which have turned out to be killers as well as exhausters. It may take a thousand more years to catch up to them.

One of Quints Should Live to Be 86

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK—The Dionne quintuplets now are 13 years old, and at least one probably will live to be 86 or older, says the Statistical Bulletin of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company.

On the basis of life expectancy rates among females in Canada, "the chances are about 96 in 100 that all five girls will reach their majority, about 65 in 100 that they will all attain age 45, and more than 20 in 100 that they will all five live to celebrate their 65th birthday."

It may be expected that the last survivor of the group will live to 86, it adds. The special care given the quints, and the continued general gains in life conservation, will improve their chances for long life.

Women Sentenced To Camp

FLENSBURG, GERMANY — Two German women were sentenced by a British control commission court to spend four weeks in a refugee camp so that they could experience at first hand the conditions to which they condemned German refugees whom they refused to take in.

The pair were summoned before the court after they repeatedly refused to give accommodations to refugees.

The alternative sentence was three months imprisonment.

The Essence of True Religion

A Sermonette

By REV. W. E. ZIMMERMAN

Pastor of First Church of the Nazarene

But as He which hath called you is holy, so be ye holy in all manner of conversation: Because it is written, Be ye holy; for I am holy." I Peter 1:15-16.

Every once in a while it does us good to look at our religion and see if it is meeting the needs of our soul and if it is meeting the standard of the Bible. It is very easy to accumulate a lot of stuff around our religious temple that we shall be so busy taking out the trash that we shall not get into the holy of holies. It is easy to become busy with non-essentials until we fail to have time for the essentials. It is easy to become so busy with our work that we fail to have time to make a living. It is easy to become so interested in the by-ways that we fail to make any progress on the main highway to heaven.

What is the essence of true religion? Is it going to church? Is it singing songs? Is it preaching sermons? Is it teaching Sunday school classes? Is it saying prayers? These, and a lot of other religious exercises we have to do along with our religion are very important, but they are not the important thing in our religion. A person may have good religion and not be able to do any of these things. For instance, a person may have good religion and still not be able to go to church. And, so, with all the other things we have mentioned. But a person cannot have good religion and not be holy.

I know there are some that will challenge this last statement. Many have the idea that no man can be holy. Only God can be holy. But evidently God did not think that when He wrote my text. He said, "Be ye holy.. for I am holy." That is the Bible standard.

I think the reason some think that no man can be holy is because they are mistaken in their conception of holiness. They think that only God can be holy, because they think that holiness means something that carries with it majestic greatness, or supernatural power; something like Isaiah saw when he went into the temple. When Isaiah went into the temple and saw the Lord, he heard voices crying one to another saying, "Holy, holy, holy is the Lord of hosts." The door posts moved and the house was filled with smoke, and the whole earth was full of glory. If that is what you mean by holiness, then no man has it. But holiness means something more tangible than that. To be holy means to be free from sin and the things that are wrong in the sight of God.

Now do not say you do not believe that a person can be free from sin. Everybody believes that the other fellow ought to live that good. If some one borrows something from you, you believe he ought to pay it back. If some one tells you something, you believe he ought to tell the truth. In other words, all of us believe that when we are dealing with our fellow men they ought to be honest, upright and clean. That simply means that we believe that man can and should live holy.

The way the world tests our religion is not by how well we can preach, pray or sing, but how holy we live. The way our own hearts test our religion is how holy we live. When we step aside from the way of holines, immediately our hearts condemn us. The way the Lord tests our religion is how holy we live. He says, "Without holiness no man shall see the Lord." Yes, God hides His face from us when we fail to live holy.

NEW PASTOR TO TAKE OVER DUTIES TUESDAY

Rev. E. G. Guthrie Coming to Church of Brethren.

Rev. Ellis G. Guthrie, graduated from Bethany Biblical Theological seminary at Chicago, Ill., June 2, will assume the duties of pastor of First Church of the Brethren here Tuesday, and he and Mrs. Guthrie will occupy the parsonage on Reed avenue soon.

Having received a bachelor of arts degree from Bluffton college in 1944, he was awarded his bachelor of divinity degree at the Bethany seminary following his three years of work there, at the recent commencement. He is a son of Rev. and Mrs. J. L. Guthrie of the County Line Church of the Brethren northwest of Ada. Mrs. Guthrie's home is in Pennsylvania.

Two Vacation School Programs Arranged

Two Marion churches have announced that their concluding programs of Vacation Bible schools will be held tomorrow night. The program for First Evangelical United Brethren church will be at 7:30, and that of the Oakland Evangelical United Brethren church at the same hour, in the respective churches. Parents and friends of children who have attended the two-week schools will be welcomed at the closing exercises.

Final Evangelistic Service Scheduled

Closing service of evangelistic meetings held in Fite Memorial Baptist church will be tomorrow at 7:30 p. m. Rev. Raymond O. Nelson of the extension staff of Moody Bible institute in Chicago and Mrs. Nelson will be in charge. Rev. Nelson will preach at the morning service, as well as in the evening, and his sermons will be, respectively, "The Yielded Life" and "The Folly of Neglect." A musical program in the evening service will feature the solovox and vibraharp.

Rev. Kenneth H. Pohly To Preach Here Sunday

Rev. Kenneth H. Pohly recently of Aurora, Ill., who served as assistant pastor of Calvary Evangelical United Brethren church last summer, will conduct services tomorrow at the church because of illness of the pastor, Rev. R. W. Faulkner. The sermon subject for the 10:30 a. m. service will be "I Believe," and for the 8 p. m. service, "Christ—Greatest Man Or Lord of Life."

At the uniting conference of the Evangelical and the United Brethren in Christ churches which was held at Johnstown, Pa., last November, Rev. Pohly was elected president of the General Youth Fellowship of the Evangelical United Brethren church.

Recently he was elected as a delegate of the Evangelical United Brethren church to the World Conference of Christian Youth at Oslo, Norway.

Marion To Get New Officer In Salvation Army

Lt. Betty Jean Williman, whose home is in Van Wert, has been assigned to the Salvation Army corps in Marion and will report here for duty Saturday, July 5.

She completed her course at the Salvation Army Training college in New York City June 16, and at exercises in Carnegie hall on that date was assigned here as a probationary lieutenant by Commissioner Donald McMillan, territorial commander of the eastern territory.

In one year she will be in line for rank of full lieutenant, and after five years of further study from that time will be eligible to apply for rating of senior officer. She entered the training college last September, and after leaving school was given a two-week vacation before assuming her work in Marion. She is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Williman of Van Wert.

Epworth To Hold Baptismal Services

Baptism and reception of new members will be a part of the morning worship hour in Epworth Methodist church tomorrow. Three Youth Fellowship groups of the church will meet at "Our House" at 7 p. m. for recreation, followed by a program at 8. Continued from two weeks ago, the topic will be "One Big, Happy Family," with a panel discussion by Carl Campbell from Emanuel Lutheran church; Wilson Tway from the Christian Science church, and John McKinney from St. Paul's Episcopal church. All young people are invited to come and bring their friends, it was announced. Lawn fete plans are well under way and many tickets have been sold for the "Uncle Remus' Plantation party," seventh annual lawn festival of the Youth Fellowship set for "Our House" July 11 from 5 to 10 p. m.

Next Tuesday, 10 delegates will go to the Intermidate camp at Sabina. Miss Margaret Huffman plans to accompany the group and serve on the camp faculty. The camp will continue through Sunday. July 20 to 27, a delegation will attend the Lima District Youth institute at Lakeside. Delegates will attend an Older Youth institute at Delaware July 4.

PARK PROGRAM PLANNED

Arrangements have been completed for a combined outdoor service and picnic for Salem Evangelical and Reformed church tomorrow. The meeting will be in Garfield park at 10 a. m. In event of rain, the congregation will meet in the pavilion. Those attending are to take covered dishes for the picnic meal and meet at the park at 9:30. The church school council will meet Tuesday night at the church. Wednesday night, the consistory will meet. There will be no mid-week service. Mrs. Bertha Irion will be hostess for a meeting of Harmonie Guild in her home at 605 South Prospect street Wednesday afternoon. A meeting of the Mary-Marthas will be held Thursday night in the home of Mrs. Raymond Dutt of the Lynn road.

Rev. Lewis To Show Missionary Film

Monday at 8 p. m. Rev. Marvin Lewis will shown missionary pictures in the Emmanuel Baptist church, of which Dr. C. E. Hershey is pastor. Dr. Hershey and Rev. Lewis traveled approximately 16,000 miles by plane in April, visiting mission fields, conducting services. The pictures Rev. Lewis will show are colored slides. Over 200 were taken on this trip through countries of Central America, part of South America, Haiti and Jamaica. Rev. Lewis stated that in connection with many of the pictures there is an interesting story of the working and saving power of the Gospel in the foreign lands." Some of the featured pictures will be: Mexican boy who walked 300 miles "to get under real Gospel teaching;" relief map of Guatemala; veteran missionaries of the Central American mission; a volcano and banana plantations from the air; Panama canal; shrunken human heads of Ecuador; ruins of Antigua, where over 40 churches were destroyed by earthquake; baptismal service in Haiti; radio station HCJB, Quito, Ecuador, and others.

Three Days

is a long time to be dependent upon anyone for so intimate a matter as the burial of a loved one. And yet, for THREE DAYS, during the funeral period, almost your every move has been planned by the Funeral Director, in most cases one whom you know but slightly.

Why not visit our funeral home BEFORE the emergency arises, and assure yourself that we are the people to whom you would entrust the details of this 3 day period?

Arrangement of Clothes-Closets Called Important in Home Planning

YOUR HOME TODAY and TOMORROW
by W. Wadsworth Wood

The average small house never has enough closet-space to accommodate the many articles of apparel which we want to place in them. Nevertheless, it has been proved that the clothes-closets are so poorly planned and arranged that they are only about 30 per cent efficient. The average closet can be so arranged as to be twice or three times as accommodating as it is at the present.

Most closets are equipped with one shelf, and usually that is placed at the wrong height. At least two shelves can be set above the hanger-bar in the average closet, and if the ceiling is high, sometimes three can be installed. In a man's closet, the space beneath the coats usually is wasted. One or two shelves can be set in here, to hold shoes or boxes, which usually are placed in a row on the floor.

Wrong Spot

Tie-racks are generally placed on the back of the door, in the very center. The rack should be moved up or moved down, so that wire-hat-holders can be put on the door. These will hold four or six hats easily, and take up only one-half of the door-back.

The usual arrangement for the hanger-bar is to have it run across the closet from side to side. Of course, if the closet is very narrow, that is the only way in which it could be run; but if it is a foot or so wider than the door opening, there should be two bars running from front to back of the closet, so that you have the clothes in two racks, one on either side of the opening. The wall at the back of the closet between the clothes, can be fitted with hangers for bath-robes and sleeping garments.

As closets are usually rectangular in shape, it does not take a great amount of planning to arrange them so as to take advantage of every inch of space they present. You know exactly what you have in the line of suits, shoes and hats, and should be able to arrange a closet so as to be orderly and convenient.

Better Hangers Available

Good, substantial wood hangers are back on the market again and these should be used instead of light wire hangers which are always bending out of shape, and bunching-up clothes.

The best informed authorities on the subject of closet-planning, claim that more than half of the trouble caused by an over-crowded closet comes from the practice of keeping worn-out clothes hanging in a space that should be kept for used clothing.

Imports of natural rubber to the United States dropped from more than one million long tons in 1941 to about 60,000 in 1943. It is expected to climb to about 400,000 in 1947.

FIRST AID TO AILING HOUSE
—By ROGER C. WHITMAN—

Wallpaper Hard To Remove

Q. When we paper our walls we used boiled starch for paste. It sticks like glue. Now that I want to repaper I find the paper hard to get off. Soaking it with hot water and scraping is a slow job. How can I remove it?

A. Next time try soaking the paper with hot water and washing soda, then go over it with coarse sandpaper wrapped around a block of wood, for easy handling. It will be slow work, but with help you should be able to get the paper all off. A handful of steel wool may speed up the work. (Wear gloves to protect your hands.)

Scratched Floors

Q. My floors are pine wood and have been varnished twice. They are scratched in some places. What can I do to hide the scratches? Will oak and varnish stain hide them?

A. The effect would be better if you would first take off the scratched varnish and do the floors over. An electric floor-sanding machine would remove the old varnish and give a clean, smooth surface for a new finish. If you do not wish to go to all that work, you might try applying a coat of floor varnish of the same get a good match, and scratches color. But it will be difficult to may recur.

HOMES FOR AMERICANS

By The Associated Press

Cozy cottage for a single man or woman—or a couple—young or old—this house was designed by Henry C. Hahn, architect, 101 Park avenue, New York 17, N. Y. Comprising only three rooms, plus hall, bath and garage, the plan offers apartment convenience. It was worked out to solve the problem of those persons ordinarily at a disadvantage when finding most dwellings designed for larger families. The house contains about 18,000 cubic feet, which offers a guide for local construction estimates, exclusive of land and garage. Construction is wood frame with low walls shingled or covered with siding, gabled roof with close cornice. The plan calls for a paved front terrace with bench at the side. The garage is attached by an arched breezeway and the garage doors are lattice trimmed. An open porch is provided on the garden side of the living room. Generous room sizes are called for. A folding bed closet next to the fireplace adds flexibility.

GAS TO BE RATIONED

By The Associated Press

ST. LOUIS, June 28—Officials of the Shell Oil Company said today gasoline would be allocated to its dealers in seven midwestern states during July and August to meet a tight supply situation. States affected by the measure are Michigan, Indiana, Illinois, Wisconsin, Minnesota, Iowa and Missouri.

Two Calls Answered By Marion Firemen

Sparks from a locomotive set fire to waste thrown out of an upstairs window onto a transformer platform at the Universal Cooler storage and machine shop on Lincoln avenue, resulting in a call for city firemen at 12:55 p. m. Friday. There was no property loss.

Sparks from a neighbor's bonfire ignited the roof of a garage owned by Alonzo Brown of 907 Davids street at about 4 p. m. Friday, causing an estimated $15 loss, firemen reported.

Final Program Given By Vacation School

Closing activity of the Daily Vacation Bible school of Fite Memorial Baptist church was a demonstration program held at the church Friday night. Enrollment in the school reached 171, with an average attendance of 115, Rev. R. A. Maugans, pastor, reported. Teachers of classes and workers included Mrs. Huldah Taylor, Mrs. Roxie Cox, Mrs. James Thurston, Mrs. Leon Huffman, Mrs. Clara Wilkinson, Mrs. George Roberts, Miss Hazel Layman, Mrs. Mary Simpkins, Mrs. Carlton Burrell, Mrs. Verl Endsley, Mrs. Harvey Woy, Mrs. Glen Riddle, Mrs. Howard Glenn, Mrs. Eugene Allison, Carl Reed, Mrs. Lewis Massie, Mrs. Fred Porter and Mrs. Maugans.

TEA GIVEN FOR CIRCLE

The last meeting of the season for Circle No. 9 of the W.S.C.S. of Epworth Methodist church was in the form of a tea Thursday afternoon at the home of the leader, Mrs. A. W. Newby on Forest Lawn boulevard. Mrs. Newby presided for a business session, in which it was reported 37 calls had been made on the sick during the month. Plans were made to join with other circles for the W.S.C.S. picnic July 16 at Garfield park.

Mrs. Hugh Malo conducted devotions and Mrs. Paul Blair read a paper, "The Children and the Law." Mrs. C. J. Bever gave a paper, "National Homes for Children." Mrs. Rush Jones was a guest. The hostess was assisted during the social hour by Mrs. Glen Toms and Mrs. H. Moore.

MISSION GIFTS VOTED

Donations were voted for missions at a meeting of the Women's Missionary society of Emanuel Lutheran church Friday afternoon at the church, and two new members were enrolled. New members are Mrs. Lawrence Rengert and Mrs. John Loeffert. A topic on foreign missions was presented by Mrs. Sidney Gast and Bible study was in charge of Mrs. Matilda Laucher. Musical numbers were by Miss Phyllis Huffman, piano solos, and Miss Joanna Jacobs, vocal solos. It was voted to give $75 to Mexican missions in Texas, and $10 for Kurdistan missions. Members decided to pack a box for European relief.

V.F.W. Moving To New Location on July 1

Plans to move to the post's new home at 130 Court street on July 1 were announced at a meeting Wednesday night of Veterans Post No. 3513, F.V.W. Final decorations of the new building will be completed later.

A report on the 10th district meeting held recently at Mansfield was given by James Cusic, commander. The post announced it will co-sponsor a carnival with members of the sheriff's office. The post will be host when the district conference is held here in late September.

FLOOD WATERS FALL IN MIDWEST STATES

By The Associated Press

KANSAS CITY, June 28—Flood waters of the Missouri river began to drain off the western half of the state today and gathered for a junction with the raging Mississippi above St. Louis posing the threat of additional heavy damage along the gulf-bound stream.

The Red Cross announced 33,657 persons had been made homeless in the four state area of Iowa, Nebraska, Missouri and Illinois by the raging tide.

Tributaries of the big muddy were falling slowly in the western half of Missouri although the danger from additional rainfall still was present, the weather bureau here reported.

West and north of Kansas City river water which had inundated lush cropland and highways was receding evenly.

Col. E. W. Potter, district chief engineer, said of 301 dikes along the western section of the Missouri and its tributaries, 231 have been breached. He said six more gave way yesterday in the Jefferson City area. The breaks flooded additional thousands of acres of farmland.

Tom Douglas, Missouri agriculture commissioner, said the floods had cost the state at least $50,000,000 in crop losses alone.

Tobin Tells Labor To Obey New Law

By The Associated Press

INDIANAPOLIS, June 28 — Labor unions should obey the Taft-Hartley act "scrupulously," says Daniel J. Tobin, international president of the AFL teamsters union, adding that those advocating a general strike in protest of the law are "enemies of organized labor."

"We resent the law," Tobin said in a statement, "but the working people of this nation are not revolutionists."

The veteran member of the AFL executive council said the bill would cause "serious trouble," and "resentment of the toilers," but he added:

"Whoever talks about a general strike in this crisis must be either insane or endeavoring to play into the hands of the Communists."

Head for Showdown On Problem of Balkans

By The Associated Press

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y., June 28—Russia and the western powers in the United Nations security council headed today for a showdown on the touchy problem of the Balkans.

The question uppermost in the minds of most delegates was whether the Soviet Union would back up her satellites — Yugoslavia, Bulgaria and Albania—when the time came to vote on committee findings that those three nations were responsible in some degree for the bloody guerrilla warfare in Greece.

Governor Vetoes Bill On Sale of Liquor

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., June 28—Governor Herbert today vetoed a house bill which would have amended the statute providing restrictions on the sale of liquor to minors.

Governor Herbert declared the bill would weaken the existing statute by causing the state to prove "willful knowledge" on the part of the tavern operator.

Three other vetoes by the governor were announced this morning.

They were:

House bill. 201; which would have taken away municipalities' immunity in accidents involving government functions,

House bill 447; which would have granted county commissioners the power to abolish county departments of welfare, and

Senate bill 178, which would have included hospital care under poor relief.

The governor affixed his signature to two other house bills, including house bill 314 providing for regulation of Ohio's strip coal mining for the first time in history.

Presidential Succession Bill Stirs Quite a Controversy

By FREDERICK C. OTHMAN
United Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, June 28—My chore today is to prove that the gentlemen were not, either, ghouls.

Two years ago, you may remember, President Truman recommended a law to take care of our vice-presidentlessness. If the president died, the President said, let the job go to the speaker of the house.

After the Republicans got in control of congress and elected one of their men as speaker this year, they decided it was a good idea. Their Sen. Kenneth Wherry of Nebraska wrote such a bill and brought it up for a vote. The Democrats didn't like anything about it. And their Sen. Alben W. Barkley of Ky., tried to veto it. Now go on with the dialogue:

"Suppose on Jan. 20, inauguration day," cried Sen. B., "the president-elect is ill. He is in a hospital. He is unconscious. He cannot take the oath of office. So the speaker has to resign from congress in order to take the oath as president. And then the president recovers. He goes back to work, and what have you got?"

You have an ex-speaker out of a job, that's what, thundered the gentleman from Kentucy.

Would He Resign?

"The speaker is not going to resign for a temporary difficulty of a week," shouted Sen. Wherry.

"He'd have to," insisted Sen. Barkley.

"No, he wouldn't," snapped the gentleman from Nebraska.

Sen. Barkley tried the retort ironic. He said he supposed actually the speaker wouldn't have to accept the presidency of the United States.

"That's absolutely correct," chortled Sen. Wherry. "He wouldn't resign to become president for just one week."

"There's no way to force a man to become president," Sen. Barkley agreed, "but no matter how briefly he acted as president, he'd have to resign from congress."

So there was some more palaver. Numerous Democrats offered amendments to thwart President Truman's ideas. And here was Sen. Barkley with another question.

"Suppose the president becomes insane?" he asked. "Even if he were tried by a lunacy court and committed to an insane asylum, there is no law that would hold him to be disabled."

He said there ought to be a law. Sen. Wherry said. what kind of law? Sen. Barkley said that ought to be investigated.

"Investigated?" repeated Sen. Wherry. "This subject was investigated by congress until it was exhausted in 1856. We studied it again in 1886. We're still studying it."

Another Speaks Up

Sen. Richard B. Russell of Ga., another of President Truman's Democratic foes, said he meant to cast no slurs, but he'd prefer the president pro-tem of the senate any time to the speaker of the house as president. He said history'd show that senators are just as smart as representatives. He made his motion formally and this put the linen-suited pro-tem Arthur H. Vandenberg in something of a spot.

Vandenberg walked off his platform so he could make a speech. He said the issue was impersonal.

"And not a popularity contest," he added, glaring at the Democrats. He said the speaker of the house ought to be president whenever we run out of presidents and vice presidents.

So be it. The Republicans voted down the Democrats in support of President Truman. If the house agrees, as expected, we'll not have to worry about the president shortage.

RUSSIAN ECONOMIC POSITOIN SHAPES UP

By The Associated Press

PARIS, June 28—The Russian position of the Marshall aid-Europe plan appeared to be shaping up today at the three-power foreign ministers' conference, and indications were that it might involve a request for more definite information.

Because of a news blackout imposed by British request, official sources were silent as British Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin, French Foreign Minister Georges Bidault and Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov assembled for their second session in the French foreign ministry's ornate Hall of Parrots at 4 p. m. (10 a. m. eastern standard time).

Tass, official Soviet news agency, said the conference's "foremost task" was to "clarify the actual meaning" of the Harvard university speech June 5 in which Secretary of State George C. Marshall offered United States help in rebuilding Europe's war-wrecked economy. Some regarded this as a tipoff on the Russian attitude.

Le Parisien, Paris liberal newspaper, reported, meanwhile, without naming its source, that Molotov, "made a very precise proposition" which took up most of the discussion at the ministers' opening four-hour meeting yesterday. Reliable quarters said the ministers wasted no time in coming to grips with some principles basic to recovery.

Dependable sources reported that Bidault injected the issue of Franco Spain by proposing that all countries—whether allies, neutrals or enemies in the war—be included in the program except Spain.

Tass, in a Paris-datelined dispatch, suggested that the conference first ask the U. S. about the "extent" and "conditions" of American help and the likelihood of congressional approval, and then go ahead with "ascertaining the need of European countries for economic aid."

Order Against Lima, Piqua Firms Amplified

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, June 28—The federal trade commission today further amplified a cease and desist order issued in 1941 against the Kenton Grocery Co., Lima, and the S. Zollinger Co., or Piqua.

The two firms were involved in a case against the United Buyers Corp., of Chicago, in which the commission forbid the passing on, or granting to buyers of any commission received in buyers purchases.

FTC said it also includes compensation in the form of money, credits, services, or benefits provided by the expenditure of such commissions.

Union Central Converts To Mutual Company

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., June 28—Approval of conversion of the Union Central Life Insurance Co., Cincinnati, a stock life insurance company, into a mutual company which will be owned by the policy holders, was announced today by W. Lee Shield, state superintendent of insurance.

The action is being taken under a 1941 law which permits the stock companies to convert to mutual.

JONES

1943, issue of "Cross and Flag" published greetings from Jones.

Jones said: "I never sent greetings to Mr. Smith."

Pearson said he did not charge that Jones was a member of the Klan, or that he was old enough at the time to know what he was doing, "but I do state that his father was an organizer for the Ku Klux Klan," and that his father took him to meetings and introduced him as the youngest member of the Ku Klux Klan." Pearson said that was around 1921 or 1922.

Jones, who was 40 years old last Wednesday denied flatly that he or his father ever belonged to the KKK. He said his father, a grocer, declined to join the Klan and as a result was "labeled a Catholic sympathizer."

"His business fell off," Jones testified. "If anyone has ever suffered by reason of the Klan my family has."

Denies Membership

Pearson told the committee that "if he was not a member of the Klan, I regret to make the more serious charge that he was a member of an equally bigoted organization—anti-Catholic, anti-Jew—namely, the Black Legion." Pearson declared that Jones was inducted into the organization in the basement of the home of Bert Effinger in Lima, O.

"Were you a member of the Black Legion?" Senator Capehart (R-Ind) asked the congressman.

"I was not, sir," Jones replied.

Jones also testified that when as prosecuting attorney he fought through two courts to extradite Effinger to Michigan.

"That would explain my position, that I was a foe of the Black Legion," he said.

"Nothing in my public or private life would recommend itself to my being a member of that type of organization."

City's Third Fire Loss In 4 Months Is $500,000

By The Associated Press

YORK, Pa., June 28—York's third major fire in four months gutted a block-long industrial building today, causing damage expected to reach $500,000.

Embers still smouldered at 9:30 a. m., 12 hours after the blaze was reported. Seven firemen were injured in the fire, none seriously.

The blaze began, firemen reported, in a chute used in the York-Shipley, Inc., sheet metal plant for conveying shredded paper from the second to the first floor.

The York-Shipley building which also housed a warehouse of H. M. Rehmeyer, electrical appliance dealer, was gutted along with a second building, used by Kart Ort for his aeronautical equipment supply.

RAILWAY GROUPS MEET

Members of the Erie Railroad Veterans association and the Ladies auxiliary met for a joint social hour following separate business meetings Thursday night at the Y.M.C.A. Mrs. Jacob Bolinger presided for the women's meeting and the men's session was presided over by P. F. Nichols. A special award was won by J. C. Miller and in games the awards were won by Ray Knorr, Mrs. H. C. Smith, Mrs. J. C. Miller and Mr. Nichols. Refresehments were served by a committee composed of Mrs. Walter Melby, chairman, Mrs. C. E. Shepard and Mrs. J. W. Henry. A picnic was planned for July 24 at Garfield park. Mr. and Mrs. Chester Murtaugh will be chairmen for the affair and contests and games will be arranged by Mrs. H. C. Smith and Mrs. Victor Tron.

SEASON'S FINAL MEETING

Final meeting until September for the Lucy Webb Hayes circle of Epworth Methodist church was held Thursday night in the home o Miss Pauline Ruhl of 288 Lafayette street. Mrs. Hazel Fields presided. Report was made by the treasurer, and a letter was read by Mrs. Maude Robinson from the Ethel Harbst home, mission project supported by the group. It was reported that 50 pounds of books have been sent to mission projects. Miss Audrey Bolander presented a paper, "Our Homes for Children." Assistant hostesses were Mrs. Zelma Baker, Mrs. Florence Pickerel, Mrs. Mildred Linn and Mrs. Blanche Butler.

Plan Annual Outing Of St. Mary Parish

Plans are going forward for the annual outing to be held at the Marion County fairgrounds for members and friends of St. Mary parish on Sunday, July 27. Chairmen were announced at a meeting of a number of members and representatives of organizations of the parish Friday night in Moira hall. Gene Fetter, presided, and will serve as general chairman of the outing committee. In addition to being a picnic the affair has been planned as a homecoming for former members of the parish and students of the parochial school.

An extensive program of entertainment and events is planned including ball games, contests and other recreational activities. Prizes will be awarded throughout the day and evening and there will be refreshments on the grounds. Tables will be provided for picnic gatherings.

The following chairmen were named: Mrs. Mary Maxwell, registration; Tom Dunn, chairman, Paul McKinney and Ed. McAndrew, refreshments; Gene Gunder, athletic events; Charles Gallagher, games; Robert Murphy, prizes; Robert Axe, booths; Joseph Bingham, publicity; Kenneth Armbruster, grounds; Joseph Dunn, tickets; Floyd Cornely, finance.

Committees will report at a meeting for all members of the parish interested in the outing to be held Monday night, June 7 at Moira hall.

PICNIC SET FOR JULY 16

A meeting and tea for Circle No. 10 of Epworth Methodist church was held Thursday afternoon in the service chapel of the church. Mrs. Madge Kincaid led devotions. Members reported 44 calls made, and Mrs. W. E. Titus gave a report on a recent meeting of the general W.S.C.S. Announcement was made of a general picnic to be held for members and their families July 16 at Garfield park. Mrs. Titus read an article from Methodist Woman, and Mrs. J. J. Keggan gave the lesson study. Requests were renewed for children's books and magazines for Negro children of Georgia. Serving as hostesses for the tea which was held during the social hour were Mrs. Kincaid, Miss Pansy Rauhauser and Mrs. C. H. Bachelder. This was the last regular meeting until September.

CHURCH GROUP MEETS

The Women's Missionary society of St. Paul English Lutheran church was entertained Thursday afternoon in the home of Mrs. L. H. Craner of 752 South Prospect street. Mrs. Paul Knauss presided and presented the lesson study. Guests were Miss Jane Bragg of Columbus and Dr. Henry Schaeffer, pastor, and son Charles. Mrs. G. W. McClure will be hostess for the next meeting in her home at 603 Pearl street.

MAN BOUND OVER IN THEFT OF AUTO

Police Say He Sold Auto to Unnamed Parties.

Lester Slane, 25, of 973 Bennett street was bound over to the grand jury on a $1,500 bond in municipal court today after pleading guilty to charges of auto larceny. He was accused of the theft of a 1935 Chevrolet coach belonging to Aaron F. Unroe of 165 Glad street. The auto was stolen from the parking lot near the Banko Grill on West Center street sometime yesterday morning.

The car was recovered by the owner in front of his home later. The police brought Slane from Cardington yesterday at 5 p. m. after the marshal there had notified Chief William E. Marks he was holding a Marion man under suspicion.

Slane was reported to have sold the car to two other unnamed men who went to Unroe to secure the certificate of title. The men said they had purchased the car from Slane for $100, $92 of which they had already paid to Slane. They said they were to pay the other $8 next day.

M'ARTHUR CHECKS JAPS ON CONTROL

By The Associated Press

TOKYO, June 28—General MacArthur's expressed opinion that supervision of Japan should last a generation came when many Japanese by subtle hints were beginning to indicate their belief that foreign control was about ended.

Japanese generally still were unaquainted today with MacArthur's remarks to visiting American editors here yesterday. All newspaper stories were held up until this morning to clear American censorship.

MacArthur's previous proposal for an early peace, followed by withdrawal of military forces, has led to a slow and somewhat limited return of Japanese arrogance. This noted particularly among bureaucrats and some businessmen who expect to capitalize on the reopening of foreign trade.

The attitude of these people has stiffened sufficient to indicate they are beginning to feel there is no longer any need to be as subservient to the occupation as before.

MacArthur had not discussed the subject publicly before. But to the American editors he gave what appeared to be a definite answer by stating that territorial questions already had been settled and by implying the belief that the United States should retain Okinawa. He described the latter as the cornerstone of American defense in the Pacific.

DELEGATES CHOSEN

When the Ladies' auxiliary to Bird-McGinnis Post No. 162, American Legion, met Friday night at the Legion Dugout, delegates to a district convention at Granville July 9 were elected. They will serve also for the state convention Aug. 2-4 in Cincinnati. Elected were Mrs. Mary Laubner, Mrs. Blanche DeLong, Mrs. Geneva Dripps, and Mrs. Alta Morris. Alternates are Mrs. Mary Rogers, Mrs. Anna Ralston, Mrs. Margaret Foreman and Mrs. Mary Field. Only auxiliary meeting for next month will be a picnic Wednesday afternoon, July 23, at the home of Mrs. Dripps on Cherry street.

LAWN PICNIC HELD

The lawn of the Mrs. Filmore Young residence at 341 Mt. Vernon avenue was the setting Wednesday evening for a 6 o'clock picnic when Circle No. 3 of the Epworth Methodist church held its final meeting for the season. In charge was Mrs. J. H. Harmon, chairman, assisted by Miss Sophia Mack, Mrs. Faye Green, Mrs. W. A. Gruber. Mrs. Perry Hall presided for the short business meeting. The meetings will resume in September with Mrs. Hoover Brown of 429 Mt. Vernon avenue as the first hostess.

HOUSETOP REFUGE. With the first floor of his home flooded James L. Gore of Des Moines, Ia., sought to keep dry by climbing to the rooftop. With him on the roof are his dog and a chicken (near chimney). He let his ducks swim about in the kitchen to avoid having them swept away by the current. (Associated Press Wirephoto)

Delegates Chosen By 8 et 40 in Mt. Gilead

Delegates and alternates to the twenty-first annual "marche" in Cincinnati July 31 and Aug. 1 were appointed at a meeting of 8 et 40 at Mt. Gilead Monday night. The Mt. Gilead members were hostesses to the Marion chapter.

Women named as delegates were Mrs. Mary Napier of Marion, Mrs. Alta Morris of Marion, Mrs. Bertha Swogger of Edison, and Mrs. Marguerite Keller of Mt. Gilead. Mrs. Gussie S. Campbell, Vera Wood, Margaret Foreman, and Hazel Hoopes were named as alternates.

The group voted to contribute $5 to cancer control and $5 to the Ohio Society for Crippled children in Columbus. It was decided that there would be no meeting in July and that the August meeting be held at a picnic grounds.

Following the meeting there was a social hour at the Coffee Shop in Mt. Gilead.

union then will decide whether to use or bypass the machinery of the new national labor relations board set up by the act.

Indications were that strong unions which employers have recognized for years as bargaining agencies for all workers in an industry will avoid any recourse to the board. If so, they will deprive themselves of such legal protection as the requirement that employers must bargain with unions of their employes.

Many labor organizations, however, are so strongly entrenched that they may be willing to get along without this protection.

Among such unions are John L. Lewis' AFL United Mine Workers, with 400,000 soft coal and 75,000 anthracite miners, and the CIO Steelworkers with their 800,000 members, Auto Workers (750,000) and Electrical Workers (500,000).

Eviction Notice Time In Ohio Now Three Days

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., June 28—Edward F. Wagner, area federal rent director, today explained that under the new rent control law, only three days notice is required for eviction in Ohio.

The new law provides that evictions revert to state statute which requires only a three day notice, he said.

The new law will most affect persons living in houses which new owners wish to occupy after the present law, which expires Monday, gives occupants from four to six months to locate new quarters, Wagner explained.

Torture Witness Commits Harakiri

GUAM, June 28—Navy Lieut. Shigioshi Nakamura, a prosecution witness in the war crimes trial of 19 Japanese accused of causing the torture deaths of two Americans on Truk, committed Harakiri with a razor late today.

Nakamura slashed his stomach and his throat in the witness section of the Marine stockade, which he had been returned after a harrowing day of cross examination before the scowling faces of the defendants.

CIRCLE PICNIC MEETING

Circle No. 4 of Epworth Methodist church met Thursday for a picnic dinner served on the lawn at the home of Mrs. Frank Zuck of Windsor street. A short business meeting was followed by a social hour. One new member was accepted. Plans were made for a picnic for the W.S.C.S. at Garfield park in July. Guests included Mrs. S. M. Midgley, Mrs. Florence Stubbs, Mrs. Frank Frelich, Mrs. J. W. Turpin, Mrs. John Lacey, Miss Marie Sulser and Mrs. Mary Wilt of Columbus.

DENNIS MORGAN and Jane Wyman, shown above, co-star with Janis Paige and Bruce Bennett in the film drama of Wyoming in the 1870's, "Cheyenne," which is now playing through Thursday at the Ohio theater.

Ohio Showing Story of West

"Cheyenne" To Play Through Thursday; Dennis Morgan, Jane Wyman Star.

"Cheyenne," based on a story of the great northwest by Paul L. Wellman, is currently playing through Thursday at the Ohio theater. The starring players are Dennis Morgan, Jane Wyman, Janis Paige and Bruce Bennett.

The action of the film story dramatizes the deeds of the lawless men who preyed upon early settlers and visitors to the territory of Wyoming early in the 1870's. Dennis Morgan portrays Jim Wylie, a gentleman gambler, who is tricked into a hunt for a colorful stage-coach robber. Jane Wyman, who plays the secret wife of the robber, attempts to reform her husband, but learns that he plans to run off with Emilly Carson, played by Janis Paige, a dance-hall entertainer. With the aid of Wylie, she succeeds in bringing about the capture of her bandit husband.

Billed to open Friday, July 4, to run for seven days is "Miracle on 34th Street," a new hit starring Maureen O'Hara and John Payne.

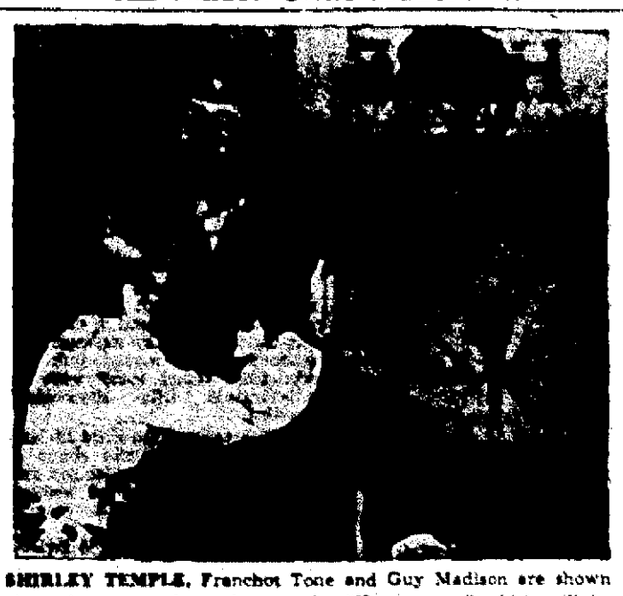
In the picture, Maureen O'Hara appears as Doris Walker, the efficient personnel manager of the world's largest department store. During store hours, she is strictly business, but at home she is confronted with the problems of raising her eight-year-old child and by the loneliness of being divorced. However, an unusual and amazing situation at the store changed her whole life.

John Payne is seen as Fred Cailey, a young and successful lawyer. Through his chance association with Maureen, he becomes involved in an hilarious courtroom battle.

Seen in the main supporting role is Edmund Gweenn, who portrays an old gent who insists that he is Santa Claus.

Tuesday and Wednesday are "The Green Years" and "Overland Stagecoach." The former stars Charles Coburn and Tom Drake, and heading the cast in the latter are Bob Livingston and Al St. John.

Martha O'Driscoll and William Wright are starring players in the picture, "Down Missouri Way," which is billed to be shown Thursday through Saturday. Completing the attraction will be "Ranger Takes Over" with James Newell and Tex O'Brien.



SHIRLEY TEMPLE, Franchot Tone and Guy Madison are shown above in a scene from the comedy, "Honeymoon," which will be shown Sunday through Tuesday at the Palace theater.

Shirley Temple Heads Cast In "Honeymoon", Palace Feature

"Honeymoon," a new "south of the border" comedy starring Shirley Temple, Franchot Tone and Guy Madison, will be shown Sunday through Tuesday at the Palace theater. It tells of the laughter-packed adventures of two romantic youngsters and their efforts to get married in Mexico City with the blundering of an American consul to heighten their predicaments.

The trouble begins when Madison, a soldier stationed in the Canal Zone, and Shirley Temple, in the role of his Minnesota girl friend, Barbara Ohmsted, arrange to meet in Mexico City and get married. However, when the pair fail to meet as scheduled, they both appeal to Franchot Tone, who is seen as assistant American consul in Mexico City.

Added attractions will include a short, "The Luckiest Guy in the World," another short in technicolor, "The Loose Nut," and the latest news.

Billed to be shown Wednesday and Thursday is "The Locket," starring Laraine Day, Brian Aherne, Robert Mitchum and Gene Raymond. As added features, a "Speaking of Animals" short, "In Love," and the latest news will be shown.

The plot in the picture "The Locket," revolves around the results of a childhood experience by the central character in whom it bred an impulse to steal, coupled with an ability to conceal her failing from her most intimate associates.

Showing Friday and Saturday will be a comedy drama, "Undercover Maisie." It stars Ann Sothern as "Maisie" with Barry Nelson and Mark Daniels.

Saturday morning, another in a series of "Kiddie Shows" will be presented. The attraction will be "The Prince and the Pauper," and added features will include a short, "In the Post War Era," a short in color, "Chick and Double Chick," and a cartoon short, "Sheep Shape."

Marion Film In Technicolor

"The Shocking Miss Pilgrim" Stars Betty Grable and Dick Haymes.

"The Shocking Miss Pilgrim" starring Betty Grable and Dick Haymes, and "Sarge Goes to College" will be shown Sunday and Monday at the Marion theater.

The former, photographed in technicolor, unfolds the gay story of the first American girl to accept a job as a typist in the business office. The latter picture is the story of an ex-GI who finds himself in a college surrounded with teenagers.

Billed as a double feature for Tuesday and Wednesday are "Pride of the Marines" and "Fall Guy." The former stars John Garfield, Eleanor Parker and Dane Clark, and heading the cast in the latter is Robert Armstrong.

"Pride of the Marines" deals with the life and accomplishments of Al Schmid, one of the Marine heroes of World War II. In the thriller, "Fall Guy," Robert Armstrong finds himself accused of another man's crimes.

"Oregon Trail Scouts" and "Queen of the Amazons" have been scheduled as the double feature for Thursday through Saturday.

The former, starring Allan Lane as Red Ryder and Bobby Blake as "Little Beaver," relates in action and suspense scenes how Little Beaver and Red Ryder first met. The latter picture is a story of the strange tribe of giant women of the South American jungle and of a white woman's attempt to discover secrets of new lives.

County Fair Booth Planned by Grange

When Bethlehem Grange met Wednesday night, discussion was held on the Grange booth at the Marion county fair, and a "Children's Hour" program was presented. Miss Betty Fogle announced the program. Taking part were Ruth Beckel and Virginia Mahaffey who gave a poem; Evelyn Mahaffey and Peggy Grates, piano solos; Jean and Jane Fogle, Darrell Gerfen, Ruth Ann Williams, Sue Ann Isler, Frank Howald, Shirley Kaelber, Carrol Louise Isler, John McFarland, Brent Berringer, Charles Howald, Dwain Williams and Donald Howald, recitations; Richard and Shirley Kaelber, song, and Janet Ullmer, song. A balloon blowing contest was won by Jean Fogle, and a bubble gum contest by Frank Howald. Dorothy Fogle was in charge. It was announced that those wishing to become fifth and sixth degree members are to get in touch with the master or secretary. Refreshments were served by Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Hinklin and Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Williams. Plans were made for the Grange to go to Perkins observatory near Delaware Friday night.

At the next meeting, the program will be on "Conservation," with pictures and a talk by Herschal Hocker.

Basil Rathbone In Feature Film At State Theater

"Abilene Town," staring Randolph Scott and Ann Dvorak, and "Dressed To Kill," with Basil Rathbone and Patricia Morrison, will be shown Sunday and Monday at the State theater.

Billed as a double feature for Tuesday and Wednesday are "The Green Years" and "Overland Stagecoach." The former stars Charles Coburn and Tom Drake, and heading the cast in the latter are Bob Livingston and Al St. John.

Martha O'Driscoll and William Wright are starring players in the picture, "Down Missouri Way," which is billed to be shown Thursday through Saturday. Completing the attraction will be "Ranger Takes Over" with James Newell and Tex O'Brien.

YOUR HEALTH

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

Disorder of Eyes

THE eyes are constantly bathed and nourished by a circulating fluid. Where too much of this fluid is formed or where its natural outlets are blocked for some reason, pressure within the eyeball increases and a condition known as glaucoma is said to be present.

Glaucoma is a very serious disorder. It requires prompt care if permanent damage to the eyeball and blindness are to be prevented. Early treatment can often save sight, but there must be no delay. Once the delicate tissues of the eye are damaged, the finest skill in the world will not suffice to restore them.

There are a number of kinds of glaucoma. One type is known as acute, congestive glaucoma. This variety starts suddenly with severe pain in and around the eye, head, ears or teeth. Sometimes there is sickness to the stomach, or vomiting, and there also may be fever. A person's visual defect rapidly becomes worse.

Usually only one eye is affected, and the affected eye quickly becomes very red. The affected part of the eyeball, or cornea, has a cloudy appearance, and it may be almost insensitive to touch. The pupil or opening into the eyeball is widened or dilated.

In cases of this type, immediate treatment is necessary, if blindness is to be prevented. A substance known as eserine or pilocarpine must be put into the eye every few minutes or less frequently. This will contract the pupil. At no time must the drug known as atropine, which dilates the pupil, be employed. Nor should such ointment as yellow oxide of mercury be used in such cases, since they may make it worse.

Another type of glaucoma is called non-congestive, or simple glaucoma. This condition occurs ten times more often than the acute type. It starts more gradually with attacks of blurred vision, which may last for several hours and are often accompanied by a one-sided headache. Sometimes there is difficulty in reading. The eye is not red.

The symptoms seem to occur particularly at times of excitement or worry. At night, the vision is often blurred, and the patient may see halos around street lights or car lamps. These symptoms may last months or years before patient becomes aware he is losing his eyesight. Thus, it may be seen, that unless some attention is given to these symptoms, the disorder may continue for a long time before a diagnosis is made and treatment started. When such symptoms occur, an eye specialist should be consulted at once.

New Law Certain To Become Basis for Political Arguments

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON, June 28—The new labor law, like it or not, will be neck-deep in politics.

When he vetoed the labor bill, which the Republicans had pushed through congress, President Truman blasted it from stem to stern.

After taking it apart in his veto message, Mr. Truman said:

"I have concluded that the bill is a clear threat to the successful working of our Democratic society."

James Marlow

Congress received the veto message and its warnings, ignored it, and repassed the vetoed bill into law.

Will the new law work? Will it cause more labor trouble than it was supposed to correct?

Right now no one knows.

As soon as the vetoed bill became law, this kind of talk began around Washington:

Mr. Truman is on the spot. He condemned the bill. He said it wouldn't work. He didn't say he'd try to make it work if it became law.

Prospects of Arguments

But next year is a presidential election year. Suppose there is a lot of labor trouble next year.

Then in 1948 the Republicans will be able to go before the country and say:

We passed a good labor law. But Mr. Truman didn't like it. He said it wouldn't work. And he hasn't tried to make it work.

Mr. Truman, undoubtedly aware of the kind of Washington talk outlined above, issued a statement on the new law. He said in part:

"For my part, I want to make it unmistakably clear that, insofar as it lies within my power as president, I shall see that this law is well and faithfully administered."

So now if the law doesn't work, Mr. Truman is on record as saying he will try to make it work.

But will that stop the political arguments if the law doesn't work? Hardly.

In 1948 Mr. Truman, or at least some of his fellow-Democrats, undoubtedly will say—if the law doesn't work—that the law can't work because it's a bad law.

And, in turn, the Republicans pretty surely will defend their handiwork by saying it is a good law but wasn't well administered by the Democrats.

If the bill works well next year, the Republicans will be in position to take full credit, for its success, since Mr. Truman already has said it's no good.

So far, all that's been said here involves just the Democratic and Republican politicians.

But what of management and organized labor in 1948? They'll probably choose up sides, judging from the way management is for the new law now and unions are against it.

And—what of the rest of the country, that part of the people who are neither employers nor members of unions? What will they try to do?

They'll have to spend a lot of time trying to figure out who's right, if they haven't already chosen up sides on this huge issue.

500 HORSES EXPECTED HERE FOR LITTLE GRAND CIRCUIT

Many Entries To Be Stalled in Nearby Towns.

The only thing little about the Little Grand Circuit races which start here next Tuesday, from all pre-meet indications, will be the name.

Because of this Frank Foster, president of the Marion Trotting association in charge of putting on the 19-day show which will be wound up July 19, is hustling to secure barns to stable the better than 500 horses he expects to show up for the event.

That is 200 more than the Marion county fairgrounds barns will accommodate. So to take care of the overflow Foster has arranged to stable horses in Delaware, Mt. Gilead and Richwood, besides pitching several tents at the Marion grounds, and completing the erection of two new permanent stables.

Use Other Barns

Foster has been routing most of the early arrivals to out-of-town stables, but tomorrow the gates at the local grounds will be let down and horses and horsemen fresh from harness racing at Hollywood Park, Calif., Fort Miami Speedway in Toledo, and the Troy fairgrounds, and other well known tracks throughout the country will converge upon the local barns.

With every indication pointing to 500 oat burners, Foster confidently expects the Marion attraction to far surpass any trotting event staged in Marion in the last 50 years. No other Marion meeting, and few in the state, has ever attracted so many horses.

Although several other notable sulky attractions will be operating at the same time as the Marion meet, Foster has attracted a record field to Marion.

Single Dash System

A single dash system has been instituted this year. In other years, Marion followed the three-heat plan, with three heats making up a single race and three races making up a single program.

This year only the stakes will go three heats. The over night runs will consist of a single dash thus giving more owners a chance to get a share of the $75,000 prize money.

Of that amount $20,000 will be paid to the stake winners and the balance will be distributed among the winners in the class events.

With their chance at the gold greatly inhanced, scores of the nation's top stables and drivers will be in the Marion event.

Among the list of drivers will be Foy Fundenburg, who tied for driving honors on the coast earlier this year. Foy will bring his entire string of trotters to Marion.

1,802,794 Fans Vote for All-Star Game

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, June 28—With the final tabulation of the All-Star Baseball poll to be announced tomorrow, latest results today showed that fans had cast 1,802,704 votes and nearly two million was expected in the last compilation.

The balloting to select the starting lineups—with exception of pitchers—for the American and National leagues in the All-Star game at Wrigley Field July 8 began June 6 and closed at midnight last Thursday. Fans voted in 42 states, the district of Columbia, Hawaii, Canada, Panama and in Germany where the Army publication, Stars and Stripes, polled overseas troops.

Joe DiMaggio, New York Yankees' center fielder, continued as the most popular player by being named on 739,214 ballots. His rivals in the individual race included Enos Slaughter, St. Louis Cardinals, 721,818; Lou Boudreau, Cleveland Indians, 706,398; Ted Williams, Boston Red Sox, 684,322; and Johnny Mize, New York Giants 658,273.

Joe Gordon, Cleveland Indians, still was ahead of the Red Sox's Bobby Doerr in lively casting for the second base starting berth in the American league. Gordon's tally was boosted to 518,674 today and Doerr's to 493,712.

Public Links Golf Players Organize; In Tourney Today

BY FRITZ HOWELL
Associated Press Sports Editor

COLUMBUS, O., June 28 — Ohio's Public Links Golf association, which launches its first post-war 72-medal play championship today at the Wyandot club, is growing up.

After operating on a catch-as-catch-can basis since 1931, the play-for-fun contingent got together last night and set up a permanent organization with the three-C mayors — Cleveland, Columbus and Cincinnati—on the executive committee.

Mayor James A. (Dusty) Rhodes of Columbus, sounding the keynote of "this tournament is for the players, and this group is going to keep it that way," was named president of the new group. Mayor Carl Rich of Cincinnati and Mayor Thomas A. Burke of Cleveland were named to the executive committee.

Other officers elected were Joseph T. Patton, candidate for Steubenville's city council, vice president; O. E. Gifford of Columbus, treasurer and Ray Pennell of Columbus, secretary.

Also elected to the executive board, with the officers, were Dr. Frank Sellino of Youngstown, Ed Knuth of Cleveland, W. F. (Bill) Debout of Cuyahoga Falls, Jerome M. Cannaley of Toledo, and Leonard D. Winkler of Dayton.

A field of 123 of the state's top publinks talent was to tee off this morning in the first 36-hole lap of the two-day 72-hole grind for the title held since 1942 by Val Chiaverni of Toledo. Also in the starting lineup were ex-champions Paul Segerlund of Akron (1936), Byron (Barney) Hunt of Columbus (1940), and Dick Rhyan of Columbus (1941). Another highly-rated star was Ed Preisler of Cleveland, present Ohio amateur champion.

Sixteen or more of the low scorers in the public course event will be qualified for the state amateur to be played in July at the Congress Lake course near Canton.

KUROWSKI'S BIG BAT BEATS REDS IN 11TH

By The Associated Press

ST. LOUIS, June 28—The fair-haired boy in these parts today was Whitey Kurowski, the hustling Pole who plays third base for the St. Louis Cardinals.

The Cards moved back into fifth place in the National league race last night as Kurowski's 11th inning single with the bases loaded accounted for two runs to give Eddie Dyer's team a 6-5 decision over the Cincinnati Reds.

The winning blow was the third off Kurowski's bat in six trips.

Eight pitchers — four for each team — got in the three-hour-33-minute contest. Alpha Brazle emerged as the winner, Deele Eraut the loser.

Outhit 14 to 8, the Reds twice led by two runs and scored in the top of the 11th to go in front, 5-4, but the Cards were not to be denied and came back strong.

Cincinnati took a 2-0 lead in the fifth as Kermit Wahl hit his first home run of the season with Eddie Miller aboard.

FIGHTS LAST NIGHT

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK—Billy Fox, 171, Philadelphia, knocked out Artie Levine, 164, Brooklyn, 3.

CHICAGO—Freddie Dawson, 139, Chicago, outpointed Doug Ratford, 139, Philadelphia, 10.

LONG BEACH, N. Y.—Emino Bonetti, 126½, Milan, outpointed Aponte Torres, 127¾, Puerto Rico, 8.

PITTSFIELD, Mass.—Tee Hubert, 165, Washington outpointed Sam Baroudi, 168, Akron, 10.

The Boston Red Sox led the American League in fielding in 1946 with a .977 mark, the same percentage posted by the Cleveland Indians in 1945, fielding leaders that year.

BOB FELLER REGAINS OLD FORM TO WIN TENTH OF SEASON

Tribe Hurler Bats in Three Runs To Beat Chicago Nine to Three.

By JACK HAND
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

Crepe hangers can remove the black ribbon from Bobby Feller's pitching arm. The holder of the major league all-time strikeout record looks like a lively corpse.

The first hurler to win 10 games in the American league, Rapid Robert appears to have regained his true form just at the right time with the all-star game less than two weeks distant.

Feller seems to have started a counter-offensive all by himself. By winning five of his last six starts.

Bobby skipped a turn in New York because of a knee injury sustained when he slipped on the pitching mound at Shibe park but he had plenty of stuff in last night's six-hit, 8-3 victory over Chicago.

Helps Out At Bat

Just to make the win a certainty, Feller drove in three runs with a double in the Tribe's five-run second inning. He struck out three, raising his season total to 101, tops in both majors.

Spud Chandler halted the latest American league phenomenom, Carl Scheib of the A's, the 20-year-old rookie who had won three straight games, two via the shutout route. The score was 7-1 in favor of the Yankees, fifth straight win for Chandler.

As Mickey Haefner of Washington had shut out the Boston Red Sox, 3-0, in the league's only day game, the Yanks' night win stretched their lead to 3½ games over the Sox.

Detroit regained its batting eye, after a dreary eastern trip in which the Tigers lost 10 of their last 11 games, and thumped St. Louis 11-2 in a twilight game called in the eighth on account of darkness.

Brooklyn widened its National league lead to a game and a half over Boston by cutting loose with a 15 hit attack for an 8-5 edge over the Braves before 35,801, largest of the season at Braves field.

Grand Slam Homer

Skeeter Newsome's grand slam homer in the second inning sunk the New York Giants, giving Philadelphia a 6-5 decision despite two round trippers by the Giants. Walker Cooper collected No. 15, 12 of which have been hit in June and six in the last five games.

St. Louis and Cincinnati played a wild one at Sportsman's park, finally won in the 11th by the Cardinals, 6-5, on Whitey Kurowski's single with three on.

Pittsburgh handed Chicago's Cubs their fourth straight loss, dropping them into a fourth-place tie with St. Louis at the .500 mark. Despite 17 Chicago hits, the final score was 12-8 Pittsburgh with Jim Bagby the winner over Bill Lee although neither finished.

Most Marion Teams Have Games Away

Most Marion Independent baseball and softball team will pull up stakes tomorrow and try their luck in other cities.

Shanty Town Bar softballers will be the exception as they will entertain Findlay Refinery at 2 p. m.

The Blue Birds, as yet without a sponsor, but looking for one, play two at Cardington tomorrow, the first starting at 1:30 p. m.

Schlairet will be at Magnetic Springs against Incor Hotel. Players will meet at Manager Somerlot's home at 214 Gurley avenue at 12:30.

Harold Smith is taking his Maids and Crystals to Galion to go against the Galion Merchants girls' softball team and against the Galion Merchants baseball team.

Body Recovered After 175-Foot Leap to River

By The Associated Press

PARKERSBURG, W. Va., June 28—The body of Rubin Anderson, 25-year-old Belpre, O., resident, who jumped from the center of the Parkersburg-Belpre suspension bridge at noon yesterday was recovered last night.

Sheriff W. C. Cochran reported Anderson removed his trousers, shirt and shoes before making the 175-foot leap and that a witness said Anderson tried to swim after landing in the Ohio river. The body was recovered about 300 yards below the bridge.

HANGS SELF IN JAIL

By The Associated Press

LONDON, O., June 28—Police Chief Gorman Clark reported the suicide yesterday of Del Cornell, 28, who hung himself in a city prison cell shortly after his arrest for allegedly passing three checks totaling $40.

PITCHES PERFECT GAME. Carl DeRose (above), Kansas City Blues pitcher, smiles in dressing room (June 26) at Kansas City after pitching a no-hit, no-run, no-walk game against the Minneapolis Millers. The big righthander received errorless support from his teammates as he retired 27 men in order. Kansas City won, 5 to 0.

PROGRAM RAINED OUT

By The Associated Press

TOLEDO, O., June 28 — Rain cancelled last night's grand circuit harness racing program at Fort Miami raceway.

PLAYS THAT COUNT

By FRANK ECK
Associated Press Sports Editor

Ted Lyons, who has just completed his first full year as manager of the Chicago White Sox, is at a loss when it comes to recalling important plays in the American league fortunes of the White Stockings.

Lyons has been with the Sox since 1923 and pitched for 21 years, winning 260 games. But in all his years with the club the team finished in the first division of the American league only six times and never higher than third.

LYONS
White Sox

"I think the most important incident that happened to us was when Jackie Hayes lost his sight," says Lyons. "Hayes got a cinder in his eye in spring training in Pasadena.

"The eye became infected but he played great ball for us. He was one of the best second basemen in baseball, even with one eye. Hayes was just coming to be a real good hitter.

"Jackie played with us nine years before he went totally blind in 1940. It was a bitter blow for we were a first division club in those days and Hayes meant a lot to us.

"In my days in the American league I've seen only four better second basemen than Hayes—Joe Gordon, Bobby Doerr, Eddie Collins and Charley Gehringer.

"Jackie was a bear on grounders and formed a wonderful double play combination with Luke Appling on short and Zeke Bonura on first.

"And he was the kind of a ballplayer you loved. He never would give up even if we were seven runs behind."

Minter C. (Jackie) Hayes, a graduate of the University of Alabama, today is the county clerk in Clanton, Ala., where he was born July 19, 1906.

"Ten days last year Jackie visited me in Chicago," says Lyons. "He has the smartest seeing eye dog I have ever seen. He's a 5-year-old boxer named Albano. I got Jackie and the dog the room next to mine. Their room had a door leading to the hotel corridor but the dog never would lead Jackie out that door. He'd always take him through mine. After all that was the way he got in.

"'Let's see if he'll lead me to your car," said Jackie.

"I walked ahead, the dog followed and we drove to the ball park.

"Hayes has a wonderful spirit. "I remember he played a few games in 1940 with one eye. (Jackie was in 18 games and batted .195, wearing a helmet while at the plate.) He hit the ball good but he couldn't field a pop fly. He said 'the ball seemed like double' on the way down.

"That was a year I'll always remember. It was around that time we lost Monty Stratton, a star pitcher. Stratton was wounded in a hunting accident, and eventually lost one of his legs."

College Crews Race On Lake Washington

By The Associated Press

SEATTLE, June 28—One dozen finely tuned college crews, comprising the biggest field ever assembled for a single race, awaited the starter's call today for the second annual Lake Washington regatta, a 2,000 meter row for the unofficial American sprint championship.

More than the 110,000 people who watched Cornell win the inaugural event a year ago were expected to pack the shoreline around Seattle's Seward park or view the spectacle from pleasure craft sardined along the boom lining the course.

Rated as the favorites were the Harvard eight tutored by Tom Bolles and Stork Sanford's Cornell shell. Allen Walz' high stroking Yale boat and the Hefty Huskies of the Washington galley —were given the best chance to upset this pair. California, Princeton, Penn and Massachusetts Tech all had support.

Industrial Softball Games Are Rained Out

Rain forced postponement of what would have been the last full first-round session of the Industrial softball league last night. Only the Osgood-General Excavator game would have been left on the schedule.

Games scheduled, which have been postponed, are Ohio Associated Telephone against General Excavator, Osgood against Quaker Oats, Pollak against Ohio Public Service, and Commercial Steel vs. McMillen Feeds.

These games have not been definitely re-scheduled, because Bob Minard, softball commission secretary is having difficulty securing places where games can be played Wednesday and Thursday. For this reason he has issued a schedule for only Monday and Tuesday of next week. He is working on a schedule, because their is a possibility that the first round of city softball will be completed next week.

FIELD IN RED-HOT CHASE AFTER SNEAD

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, June 28—A par-wrecking field still was chasing red-hot Sammy Snead in the $15,900 Chicago Victory national golf tourney which moved into the semi-final round today with an All-Virginia title show-down brewing.

Snead, entered the third 18-hole round with a 36-hole count of 130, a whopping 12 under par and three strokes ahead of another Virginian, 24-year-old George Payton from Hampton.

As sizzling as the 1946 British open winner was, though, the swarthy Payton still was a menacing contender as was over-due Ben Hogan, the Hershey, Pa., hot-shot, whose 134 was the only four strokes off Snead's pace.

Still within hailing distance of Snead—six strokes behind with 136—were Herman Keiser of Akron, O., Al Smuth of Danville, Va., Ed Furgol of Royal Oak, Mich., and resurging Lawson Little of Cleveland whose 66 yesterday had some of the sparkle of his 1940 national open title-winning form.

Among the 28 players who had bettered par 142 for 36 holes were Fred Haas Jr., of New Orleans, and Toney Penna of Cincinnati, knotted at 137; Ellsworth Vines and Dick Metz of Chicago, and 1947 P.G.A. champion Jim Ferrier of San Francisco, bracketed at 138, and seven 139 shooters.

Cubs and Dodgers To Play Twin Bills Tonight, Sunday

Plenty of baseball is on tap at Lincoln park over the weekend. A doubleheader will be played tonight and another two-game set is booked for tomorrow, both with the Zanesville Dodgers.

The first game tonight which will be a seven-inning affair will start at 6:30 and the full nine-inning contest will follow. Last night's game was postponed because of wet grounds.

The twin bill tomorrow will be the usual split with a full nine-inning game at 2 p. m. and 8 p. m. Monday is an off day around the league.

Manager Burbrink will start John Edington in one of the games tonight and either Ed Witowski or John Graney in the other. Kean and Rogan will start for Zanesville tonight.

Since the rapid improvement of the Cubs began on June 4 when they started a winning series here they have outplayed the leading Zanesville crew. The locals have won 16 and lost 8 for a percentage of .667 while the Dodgers have won 17 and lost 9 for an average of .654.

The Zanesville club seasoned with veterans got off to a fast start in the league while the Cubs had to wait until some of their youngsters gained experience. The Zanesville second base combination of Ken Lien at second and Morris Mikesell at short are experienced. Mikesell was with the Dodgers in 1944-45 while Lien was the regular keystoner last year.

The Dodgers also have two veterans in the outfield. Bob Bartholomew is playing centerfield for the second year and Joe Bracastro, one of the league's top hitters in 1945, is back from the Army and playing right field. In 1945 Joe was both a second baseman and outfielder. He has lost about 20 pounds since he played here before.

Roses Move Within Half Game of Cub By Beating Dayto

By The Associated Press

Rain and wet grounds held last night's Ohio State league schedule to two games, both won by the circuit's Indiana entrants.

Richmond's Roses drove within a half-game of second place Marion, stopping Dayton's Indians, 4 to 2. Muncie's Packers held tight to an early lead to top Springfield, 6 to 4.

Kenny St. Pierre, Roses' southpaw, struck out 11 batters and didn't walk a man while pitching the Richmond victory. He scattered eight hits and got a break when the Roses scored twice in the sixth on one hit.

Although Dino Cingolani, Springfield star, gave up but eight hits, the Muncie club jumped him for five runs in the first three innings. Both Jim Hildebrand and Ken Lanning, who worked for Muncie, managed to hold the Giants in check and preserve the early margin.

Saints Beat Blues Twice To Check Walkaway Threat

By The Associated Press

The threatened walk-away by the Kansas City Blues in the American association pennant race has been checked, temporarily at least, today by the tailend St. Paul Saints who humbled the league-leaders twice in a doubleheader.

The Saints' two wins last night, 5-3 and 6-2, cut a full game off the Blues' front running edge, leaving them five up on second-place Louisville. The Colonels date with Toledo last night was rained out.

In the opener at St. Paul, Catcher-Manager Herman Franks of the Saints, led the batpower with a triple which scored three runs. In the nightcap Franks suffered a compound fracture of the ring finger trying to stop Steve Souchock's foul bit and will be lost to the club for at least a month.

In another mishap, Otto Denning, Milwaukee catcher, was hit by a bat swung by Babe Barna at Minneapolis and suffered a lacerated jaw.

The Millers snapped a six-game losing streak by taking the opener 10-8, but dropped the finale, 9-7.

At Columbus, the Red Birds teed off for 16 hits against Bob Malloy, Red Barrett and Stan Ferek to account for 27 bases in a 10-6 walloping of Indianapolis.

SURGERY AIDS PALSY VICTIMS

form of Paralysis Also Relieved by New Developments in Neurology.

By ALTON L. BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Writer

NEW YORK—Surgery on the brain and spinal nerve channels bringing relief to some victims of two painful, crippling diseases involving palsy and a paralysis of certain muscles, sometimes turning the head over the shoulder.

The new methods were described by Dr. Tracy J. Putnam, director of the Neurological Institute of New York, before the recent Inter-American Medical Congress in Rio de Janeiro.

The two diseases are more distressing and apparently more common than infantile paralysis, Dr. Putnam said.

Shaking palsy, or paralysis agitans, brings uncontrollable shaking of the hands, arms, or head, with some rigidity. The second disease—called dystonia or athetosis—makes muscles of the arms, legs, neck or trunk contract involuntarily and almost continuously. The rigid muscles may twitch.

Aims At Nerve Signals

The surgery tries to stop abnormal nerve signals producing these effects. Dr. Putnam explained. It has enabled a few persons to return to work. One is using a typewriter with hands that once could not be kept still. In about 75 per cent of cases, operations can bring relief of the trembling and contractions, and often of pain, but they are not a cure, he said. They seldom relieve the rigidity, and may leave the tremor-affected arm or leg weakened.

Medicines sometimes help somewhat in both ailments. What causes the abnormal nerve signals is not known. Dr. Putnam said, but operations are helping to explain their mechanism.

The first operation tried, for dystonia, removes part of the motor cortex from the top of the brain. First performed in England in 1909, it was developed considerably in recent years by Dr. Paul Bucy of Chicago and by Dr. Roland Klemme of St. Louis. It works well for spasms of the arm, but less well for those of the leg, face, or neck, and relieves extremely good results in selected cases, Dr. Putnam said.

Another Development

A second operation, also for dystonia, was developed by Dr. Putnam and his associates. It is done in the neck on a nerve channel in the spinal cord. The reasoning was that the abnormal signals from the brain might be stopped before they reached the nerves going to the body extremities.

But here a strange fact in man's evolution had to be considered. Man has two sets of nerve channels or tracts in the spinal cord. One is found in lower animals, even in fishes, and still is retained in man. The other set, the pyramidal tract, is well-developed only in man and monkeys.

There was evidence that the old nerve channel was responsible for the muscle contractions in dystonia, and an operation of cutting into this old pathway was first tried on a girl who was in great pain. It worked successfully. It has had about the same proportion of success as the operation on the brain motor center, and can be used when paralysis affects both sides of the body, Dr. Putnam said.

But this method had no effect on shaking palsy. Apparently the nerve impulses causing the tremor were transmitted along the pyramidal tract, not the old motor channel.

Tests Made

But would cutting into man's main nerve tract produce severe paralysis? Tests with monkeys indicated it would not. The operation was first carried out on a patient who had been completely incapacitated for 16 years. It brought marked relief and has been used successfully with numerous patients, Dr. Putnam said.

One puzzle, he continued, is why a given operation works in one case but not another.

Dr. Putnam also is professor of neurology and neurological surgery at the College of Physicians and Surgeons, Columbia University, and now is on sabbatical leave.

BOYS HEAR TALK ON GILT CONTEST

Plans Discussed at Meeting in C. of C. Office.

An agricultural meeting under the direction of Marion Clark, chairman, was held last night in the Marion Chamber of Commerce office with approximately 32 boys, parents, sponsors and members of the agriculture committee present.

A talk by Mr. Clark outlined the plans for the gilt contest and included instructions to the contestants. The following boys filled contracts and were assigned gilts which they will receive soon. Thomas F. Guthery, Myron Sandridge, Roger Augenstein, Charles Fogle, Carl Rengert, Richard Larcom and Paul Carr.

A question period conducted by Mr. Clark followed. H. E. Webster, secretary gave a brief welcome speech and instructed the boys to feel free to call at the office for information when ever necessary.

A new program idea, titled "Reunion," will debut over the national radio fame on the "We, The People" program series, will be heard as the master of ceremonies for the meetings. The program format was first tested successfully as a special Mutual broadcast on March 14, when, on behalf of the National Society for Crippled Children and Adults, a reunion was affected between Vic Mature, motion picture star, and a 14-year-old Pittsburgh girl, who had met Vic two years before when she was a hospitalized invalid and looked upon him as her idol. Similarly, the regular series presentations will attempt to effect meetings between long-separated relatives, friends, heroes—meetings which have formed basis for innumerable dreams and cherished hopes, but which could never before be effected.

COURT NEWS

Divorce Action

Petition granted—W. A. Marshall against Lena F. Marshall; divorce granted to plaintiff, grounds neglect; custody of children referred to Welfare society for investigation. Carhart & Carhart represented the plaintiff.

Suit Dismissed

A petition filed by Hilda G. Mouser against Harold G. Mouser seeking partition of real estate in Leffler & Sons addition in East Marion has been dismissed in common pleas court. The firm of Martin & Reed represented the plaintiff.

Licenses Issued

Marriage licenses have been issued in probate court to Harlo Gayle Shumaker of Martel, machinist, and Jean Elizabeth Court of Marion, clerk; Lewis E. Bibbee, shipping clerk and Ruth E. LeMay, clerk both of Marion; Cecil W. Berk, inspector and Bessie Loyer, both of Marion; Allyn D. Rowland of Columbus, press operator and Faye Fox of Marion.

"Widows and Orphans" Scout Picnic Arranged

Final arrangements for the Marion district Scouters "Widows and Orphans" picnic have been made and the event, which is the first of a series, will be held at Camp John A. Owens Sunday afternoon.

The event was planned to promote better understanding between the Scouters and their families and to partially compensate for the times they have been forced to forego family gatherings due to the increased work in the Scouting area. George Powers is in charge of the entertainment assisted by the committeemen's staff.

Games and contests have been planned and will include a program held in addition to swimming and entertainment until a late hour. The picnic will be held from 3:30 p. m.

CANCER

have been known to kill white men.

Deadly Drug

Burks intends to bring back some specimens of a tropical plant known as Timbo. This plant secrets a deadly drug that the Indians use to catch fish. It "knocks out" the fish, enabling the Indian fishermen to catch them. Although the drug is deadly to man when eaten directly, it has no harmful effects when eaten in fish.

The Mundurucu Indians, while free of cancer, do have tuberculosis, and measles some years ago almost wiped out the tribe.

They go in for elaborate tattooing. The men tattoo themselves with green paint from their face to their waist. The women tattoo a green "mustache" which extends to their ears, Burks said.

He expects to be gone six months to a year.

BRIDGE LEAP PREVENTED

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., June 26—Police said they intended to return Mrs. Ruth Messina, 25-year-old woman who was prevented from leaping into the Scioto river, to her Sandusky home today. Patrolman Harmon B. Mance asked Mrs. Messina when she attempted to leap from the West Broad street bridge in downtown Columbus yesterday afternoon, and she was [illegible] Sandusky restaurant.

LOVE'S PERILOUS PATH

By ADELE GARRISON

I SHOOK my head dubiously at Katharine's impassioned declaration.

'You know Harriet Braithwaite, I said, 'she has my old Mede or Persian or early Christian martyr, or New England Puritan looking like a modern wobbly bug fly in comparison with her. She'd die and let everybody else in the world pass out before she'd tell a lie.'

Katharine chortled, and shot me affectionate quizzical glance at me.

"You're coming on, old girl' she approved. "We'll have you lauding your chaste prose with ribald profanity before we have time to catch our respective breaths.'

I flushed painfully and she hurriedly switched back to our basic subject.

"From what you've told me, however,' she said, "there isn't one chance in a thousand that Harriet will have to tell a lie."

'I—don't know," I said slowly. "I never talked with Harriet on the subject. Dicky and his mother were the ones who told me about the childbirth angle."

'Was that before or after your marriage?'

"Afterward, I never saw any of Dicky's family before we were married."

"Not so good," Katharine said, shaking her head. "Dicky, of course, bless his heart, would never think of anything like that in the state he evidently was in when he was playing the cave man and sweeping you off your dainty toes.

"And Mary's portrait of her grandmother as a typical mother is an accurate one,' she went on. "What was it she said? 'Any good mother would lie for her daughter.' Wasn't that it, or a reasonable facsimile thereof?"

I nodded, and she was silent for a second.

Then, she lifted her face, with her mouth and chin set in determination.

"Well there isn't a thing we can do about Harriet Braithwaite until tomorrow morning," she said. 'If I thought her message would be that the mental quirks of Mary's mother were due to hereditary insanity, as Mary fears instead of something that happened when Roderick was born, I'd bash in the skull of one of those atomic bomb experts, extract a death-dealing light ray and send it to Harriet pronto, also P.D.Q.

Rooting For the Answer

"But I'm rooting for the answer that Roderick's advent was responsible for his mother's queer little ways,' she went on. 'Whichever way it goes however, I want to warn you that Mary's mental razor is whetted sharp today. We're going to have our own time with her after Dicky leaves. He's giving her a recess now, and I want to make it last as long as I can. We'll no' go in until I were summoned. Isn't this pink blanc mange the most delicious thing? I'm lingering over it, savoring every mouthful.'

I wished not for the first time that I possessed Katharine's professional faculty of turning off her personal emotions as if she were tightening a faucet. Of course I knew one reason for her conversational switch. She did not wish to add another feather's weight to my load of anxiety over Mary.

'They do desserts here very well," I said, trying to play up.

Then I hauled back to Mary again, but sounded a more optimistic note.

"Suppose Harriet gives us the right answer," I said. 'What effect will it have on Mary's recovery?"

She gave me her old shibboleth with a grin.

"'A good nurse never diagnoses and never prescribes,' she quoted. 'However, I'd stake several billion smackers that if the right word comes from Harriet Braithwaite, you and I will be out of a nursing job, although we might stay on to bridge the gap between death's door, mental illness and riotous, full speed-ahead recovery.

'Except for a slight cold, Mary is in good shape physically,' she went on. 'If she hears good news tomorrow morning there'll be no holding her, and not much reason for throttling her. But until then the good Lawd have mercy on our souls!'

What do you fear, especially, today?' I asked.

Restlessness, nervous tension," she answered. 'We must keep her busy. Incidentally, will you stand guard at the door so Dicky doesn't open it suddenly.' I want to telephone Dr. Twitchell and ask him to come over earlier. He does not need to see Mary until later. If he does, he can manufacture some excuse for his earlier call. But I want you to tell him everything about Mary's fears.'

Crawford Co. Road Program Under Way

Special to The Star

BUCYRUS, June 28—Delayed almost three months by unfavorable road working weather, crews on the county road maintenance forces are working full time to meet the projects scheduled on this year's summer program.

Work now in progress is New Washington-Sycamore road No. 5 from Lykens east to state route 4, a job estimated to cost $33,000. Also on this year's $178,000 program is a strip of roadway from Boundary road east of Sulphur Springs eastward to DeKalb, and two bridges in the Galion-Crestline area.
